LOYALIST SPAIN MOVES CABINET FROM VALENCIA TO BARCELONA

'PROVES SOLIDARITY WITH CATALONIA'

Next Meeting of Leaders Expected to Be in New Seat of Government — Diplomatic Missions Also Being Shifted.

MADRID, Oct. 29.—Home Secretary Julian Zugazagotia announced in a broadcast last night from Madrid that the seat of the Spanish Government was being transferred from Valencia to Barcelona. He gave as the reason the necessity of consolidating all forces for victory in the civil war.

The process of transferring the government from Valencia almost a year after its removal there from Madrid already is in progress, he said.

Due to "strict necessity," the Home Secretary announced the transfer was due to "strict national necessity" and said its completion would be positive proof of solidarity between Catalonia (of which Barcelona is the capital) and the Government.

He explained the move would be no flight and had not been decided on precipitately, but rather only after most careful investigation and many consultations.

During these consultations, Premier Juan Negrin went to Barcelona, President Luis Companys of Catalonia went to Valencia and both visited Madrid.

"Whether we are in Valencia or Barcelona," the Home Secretary said, "the Government has but one project—to win. Toward this purpose all other demands are subordinated."

The move will entail transfer of all foreign diplomatic missions which were established in Valencia last November after the Government left Madrid.

Barcelona Largest City.

Barcelona, on the Mediterranean coast northeast of Valencia, is the largest city of Spain and the missions will find larger quarters than they have in Valencia. The latter city grew from a place of 250,000 population to a city of 750,000 since the war started.

Zugazagotia left to be surprised the actual date when Premier Negrin would make his headquarters in Barcelona, but it was understood the next Cabinet meeting would be held in the new capital and the official gazette would be published from there, beginning tomorrow.

ARAGON FIGHTING HALTED BY FLOOD OVER WIDE AREA

ZARAGOZA, Spain, Oct. 29.—Insurgent and Government armies on the broad Aragon front quit fighting today to combat a flood that covered wide areas in the valleys of the Ebro River and its tributaries.

The Gallego River, rushing down from the French frontier to join the Ebro at this insurgent base and old Aragon capital, was at its highest level in 20 years—21 feet above normal. The Ebro was 22 feet above normal. Heavy rains were responsible for the high water.

The Ebro flooded roads and railways in Government territory near Huesca to the North, causing great damage. It filled trenches and forced the Valencia troops to higher ground.

Zugazagotia was threatened and forced to take flood precautions. Some of the recent principal battles fought in this front were under several feet of water. Hostilities were disrupted.

Government forces were driven out of positions near Sabinaigo, in the Jaca sector, in the headwaters area of the Gallego. Almost the entire fighting zone south of Zaragoza, along the Ebro, was one great lake.

A Government communique reported developments on the Madrid front were inconsequential, but an insurgent communique received at Hendaye, France, admitted destruction of insurgent fortifications in University City, on the northwest edge of the city.

WHAT WENT ON IN CLOSED PARLEY OF A. F. L. AND CIO

STORMY SCENES OVER PUBLICITY

What Little Hope of Agreement Existed When Meeting Began Has Practically Been Abandoned.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Officials of the CIO have practically abandoned hope of making peace with the American Federation of Labor. They harbor little hope at any time, and that little vanished during the three-day session of the "peace conference," which recessed Wednesday to meet again Nov. 4. Some "miracle" may yet save the situation, but those concerned place small trust in "miracles" of that sort.

John L. Lewis, head of the CIO, continues to refuse to discuss the situation for publication, and Philip Murray, chairman of the CIO negotiating committee, has confined himself to formal statements. Nevertheless, from sources which cannot be questioned, the writer was able to ascertain the present feeling of CIO leaders on the subject, and also to obtain an authoritative CIO version of what happened behind the closed doors of the conference room earlier this week.

Never Expected Peace.

It may be said at the outset that the CIO leaders never expected peace to result from the conference. They take the position that the peace conference was called by the A. F. of L. leaders were made, not in good faith, but in an effort to appease some of their own followers, and create a favorable impression on public opinion. They contend that the Federation leaders never had any idea of coming to terms with the CIO.

This contention is based on the argument that A. F. of L. leaders always were aware that peace could be achieved only by doing the one thing they were determined to do—namely, to accept the principle of organization by industries, as against organization by crafts, in the great mass production industries. This conflict produced the original split two years ago, and what has happened since has widened the rift immeasurably.

Recalls Suspension of Unions.

In August, 1935, said one CIO officer, "the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, acting in violation of its own constitution, suspended 10 unions, who so feared the presence of more than 1,000,000. Why was that done? Because those unions were demanding recognition of the principle of industrial unionism, and the crafts-controlled executive council was afraid to meet the issue in its forthcoming national convention at Tampa."

"Through increases in membership in the original 10, plus the formation of 22 new unions, that 1,000,000 has now been increased to approximately 4,000,000. It is likely that the Federation dis-ards, who so feared the presence of more than 1,000,000, would now open the door to 4,000,000 who believe in the same principle, and are bent on accomplishing the same ends? Anyone with a sense of reality can answer that question."

"The tight little clique, which runs the A. F. of L. knows only too well what would happen if they went into a national convention where CIO's 4,000,000 members were represented. They know what would be done to the Federation's constitution and by-laws, and what is more to the point, they know what would be done to them. The very thought is enough to constitute a nightmare for Bill Green, Bill Hutchinson, Arthur Wharton, John Frey and their playmates."

Sympathy With Craft Men.

The CIO spokesman expressed considerable sympathy with the feeling among the rank and file of the craft unionists. He pointed out that, through their unions, they have achieved a position of advantage in the industry with others, and that their wages have been increased and their hours shortened, and they have achieved a measure of security.

"They feel they are fighting for home and fireside," he said. "As a matter of fact, I don't blame them much. The truth is, as matters stand now, the CIO would not wish to disturb them in the enjoyment of those advantages. But we can't guarantee them against the actions of some future convention. We can't give a bond for posterity. Unless they can bring them."

EMBEZZLER GETS TWO YEARS ON PLEA OF GUILTY

Clarence H. English, Former Treasurer of Wallace Pencil Co., Admits Taking $1104.

BOARD REJECTS PAROLE REQUEST

He Had Said Peculations Totaled $15,000—Spent Money "Living Beyond My Means."

Clarence H. English, former treasurer of the Wallace Pencil Co., pleaded guilty today in Circuit Court at Clayton to the charge of embezzling $1104 of company funds, and was sentenced by Judge John J. Wolfe to a two-year penitentiary term.

His lawyer filed application for a parole, and a hearing was held this afternoon by the county parole board, composed of the four Circuit Judges and the Prosecuting Attorney. The board, after hearing character testimony given by neighbors, business men and two ministers, denied the application by unanimous vote.

English, arrested last January, has since made admissions to Chief Deputy Sheriff Arnold Williams that he embezzled a total of $15,108. His attorney, Arthur U. Simmons, stated to the Court today that English had turned over all his property to the pencil company. Asa B. Wallace, president of the company, said to a Post-Dispatch reporter that the resulting loss made would "not amount to much" in meeting the firm's loss.

English, 51 years old, of slight build and partly bald, resides at 223 Euclid avenue, Webster Groves. He has a wife, four sons and a daughter. He was bookkeeper for 15 years at Wallace's drawing school, which has its plant and office at 2000 Hanley road, Brentwood. He has recently worked as bookkeeper for another concern.

He told Williams that he spent the money taken by him from the company in "living beyond my means," and had not engaged in any form of gambling. He used several expedients to transfer money from the firm to his own account, one method being to take money from Wallace's drawing school, through incorrect entries of amounts received from customers. An automobile, a trailer and an electric train, the last being a Christmas present for one of English's sons, were purchased with the money thus obtained, company officers have said. Discovery came when English, suffering from neuritis, went to Hot Springs for a few days, and another employee noticed peculiar entries in the books.

BOMBS FALL NEAR AMERICAN SHIP ARRIVING AT SHANGHAI

Freighter With Cargo of Steel First Big Steamer to Make Port Since War Began.

By the Associated Press.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 29.—After riding out a typhoon off the coasts of Japan, the United States Steel Corporation's freighter, Steel Traveler, steamed up the Whangpoo River today, the first deep-water steamship to dock at Shanghai since the opening of hostilities. The ship had a cargo of steel.

As the Steel Traveler came in, a Japanese troop transport started downstream and Japanese destroyers discharged projectiles to ward off Pootung against Chinese snipers firing on the transport.

Americans on board the freighter—including the captain, Thomas J. Flannery, and Mrs. W. H. Plant, wife of the president of the United States Steel Products Co.—watched the firing. Then they were thrust into another dangerous situation when five Japanese bombers attacked Chinese positions back of Pootung wharf, where the ship was anchored.

Explosion of the bombs sent the freighter's crew and passengers below decks.

FRENCH FIRE WARNING SHOTS
AT GERMAN AIR LINER

Officers Say Plane Flew Over Forbidden Zone, Spanish Frontier.

HENDAYE, French—Spanish Frontier, Oct. 29.—French aircraft batteries fired six warning shots today at a German air liner which officers said flew over a forbidden zone on the French-Spanish frontier near Hendaye.

It was the second time in little more than two weeks that French border batteries have warned Deutsch Luftthansa's Stuttgart-Lisbon airliners to stay away from the forbidden zone.

Stand now, the CIO would not wish to disturb them in the enjoyment of those advantages. But we can't guarantee them against the actions of some future convention. We can't give a bond for posterity. Unless they can bring them."

JAPANESE SET UP ANOTHER MANCHOUKUO; THREE BRITISH SOLDIERS KILLED AT SHANGHAI

Englishmen Hit When Missiles Fall Within Lines During Attack on New Chinese Positions in Near-Hungjiao.

ARTILLERY, PLANES JOIN IN ASSAULT

Invaders Also Renew Drive in Pootung, Nanziang and Other Sectors — Hundreds Killed in Air Raids on Towns.

By the Associated Press.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 29.—Three British Ulster riflemen were killed and several wounded tonight during Japanese shelling of Hungjiao, a suburb west of the International Settlement and home of many Americans and other foreigners, British military headquarters announced.

More than 200 civilians were reported killed in Japanese aerial bombardment of towns about Shanghai. An outlying American mission was bombed, and United States officials expressed the gravest anxiety tonight for the future safety of Americans in Shanghai as the battle here appeared to enter its most dangerous phase.

The Ulster Riflemen were stationed at the British defense post on the corner of Keswick and Brenna roads, at the northwest corner of the Settlement and opposite the entrance to Jessfield Park.

Shells from Chapin batteries. The shells apparently were from Japanese batteries in Chapei and were intended for Chinese positions in Hungjiao.

One unidentified foreigner also was reported to have been killed by Japanese shells falling inside the British lines.

Artillery shelling and aerial attack in the Chinese-Japanese war spread damage among American mission and other foreign property, and during the day British defense lines along the settlement frequently were under fire.

Many Americans and other foreigners abandoned their homes in Hungjiao to seek safety within the settlement, as the battle for possession of Shanghai centered in the suburban area.

Settlement in Great Danger.

The International Settlement, with its thousands of Americans and foreign residents, literally was sandwiched between Chinese-Japanese belligerents, and Japanese warned that "further regrettable and unexpected incidents" may be expected because of the difficulty of attacking Chinese positions in Nantao and Pootung.

United States officials—Brigadier General John C. Beaumont, Rear Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, and Consul General Clarence E. Gauss—expressed gravest anxiety for the safety of Americans.

Reliable Chinese reports and increasingly less accurate. One projectile, apparently Japanese, fell into the French concession, killing a Chinese woman and a child and wounding several others.

Shells Damages University.

Reliable Chinese reports said several hundred noncombatants were killed or wounded in the Japanese air raids over surrounding towns—Sungkiang, where the American Southern Methodist Mission property was struck, Soochow, Nanking, Wush, Changshu and others. Soochow was bombed and machine gunned at least eight times. Sungkiang was attacked three times. More than 200 were said to have been killed and wounded in each place.

Throughout the day shells exploded near posts manned by the Ulster riflemen. Japanese artillery, bombarding Chinese in the Hungjiao area, dropped eight shells into the Jessfield Park alone. One of the shells damaged St. John's University.

Japanese forces attacked Chinese positions in Pootung, across the Whangpoo River from Shanghai.

Many windows in buildings and homes in the western district, especially along Yu Yuen road, were shattered. Trolley car wires in the district were cut.

Flames Spread to Roof Before Downtown Blaze Is Brought Under Control.

By the Associated Press.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 29.—A fire of undetermined origin which was discovered on the twelfth floor of the Holland Building, 211 North Seventh street at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, quickly spread to the roof. A large crowd of spectators gathered in adjoining streets as firemen, responding to two alarms, fought the blaze.

Flames were shooting out of the twelfth floor windows on the Seventh street side of the brick building and out of windows on the north when the first alarm was turned in. Later they touched an observation platform and small "extra story" on the roof.

Firemen quickly brought the flames under control and later only large clouds of yellowish smoke poured out of the windows. Fire hoses were lifted up to the twelfth floor by means of ropes lowered out of the windows on the north side.

Spectators were packed solidly in Olive and Pine streets and also in Seventh street until police cleared the center of the streets.

Olive street cars running on Olive street and Cass avenue cars running on Seventh street were reported to have been stopped.

A city ambulance going east on Olive street to the fire swerved at Tenth street to avoid striking a pedestrian and crashed into the front of a west-bound Olive-University street car which had stopped to let fire engines pass. No one was hurt. The pedestrian, it was learned, was deaf and had started to cross the street unaware of the clamor of the approaching ambulance.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29.—A bomb exploded early today under the Hollywood home of Clifford E. Clinton, county grand juror, but did not injure him or eight members of his household. One corner of the building was torn out and the kitchen damaged.

"There is no question this is a reprisal for my efforts in attempting to get rid of gambling and vice in Los Angeles County," Clinton said. "I have received several threats."

Clinton, a cafeteria operator, helped to organize a citizens' anti-vice committee a few months ago.

RUSSIA TO TAKE PART IN PARLEY ON CHINA

Germany Refuses Invitation to 9-Power Treaty Conference at Brussels.

By the Associated Press.

MOSCOW, Oct. 29.—Russia tonight accepted an invitation to the Brussels Nine-Power conference on the Far Eastern conflict.

Although not a signatory to the Nine-Power treaty, Foreign Minister Maxim Litvinov said Russia accepted the invitation to attend because of her interest in Far Eastern affairs and in compliance with the League of Nations suggestion that world powers co-operate in seeking an end to the Chinese-Japanese conflict.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—Germany notified Belgium today it would not participate in the nine-Power conference on China starting next Wednesday at Brussels because Germany was neither a signatory nor an adherent of the treaty guaranteeing China's territorial integrity.

The German reply expressed "full appreciation of the endeavor to bring a speedy end to the lamentable conflict in East Asia by application of friendly means."

It added, however, that the Brussels conference was based on Article 7 of the nine-Power treaty and, "Germany is not a party to the agreement, it sees itself unable to participate in deliberations over application of the agreement."

The note concluded with an expression of willingness to co-operate in mediation when conditions are suitable.

"The German Government would like to give expression to its willingness at all times to assist in a move for peaceful settlement of the conflict, provided it is certain that indispensable preliminary conditions have been fulfilled," the note added.

Curfew Reimposed by British Authorities; Jerusalem Taxed to Play for Guards.

By the Associated Press.

JERUSALEM, Oct. 29.—One Jew was killed and three wounded today in new outbreaks of terrorism in the Holy Land. British authorities immediately reimposed curfew restrictions.

A truckload of Jewish laborers was ambushed near the Rockefeller Museum, outside Herod's Gate, but only one was wounded.

In the second attack, near the Walling Wall, a Jew was killed and two others were wounded.

Beside the curfew reimposed, a collective fine was imposed on residents of the old city to cover the cost of additional guards to patrol streets.

MONGOL HAS AIDED JAPAN IN CONQUEST

Kweisui, Suiyuan Capital, Becomes Seat of New Nation, Is Renamed Hoho — Chinese Hold Up Invaders in Shansi.

By the Associated Press.

PEIPING, Oct. 29.—Establishment of a new independent Inner Mongolian nation in the Northwest Chinese provinces recently conquered by the Japanese army was formally proclaimed today at Kweisui, capital of Suiyuan Province.

A "national assembly" of 500 Inner Mongolian delegates, gathered from Suiyuan and Chahar provinces under Japanese auspices, announced establishment of the new state at the end of a three-day session. The assembly also declared that the name of Kweisui was changed to Hoho and the city was made capital of the new nation.

Teh, the "prince" Prince who long has been associated with Japanese expansionist schemes in Inner Mongolia, was named head.

Mongols said that Hoho was a restoration of the ancient Mongol name for the twin cities of Kweisui and Suiyuan, some 350 miles west of Peiping, on the Peiping-Suiyuan Railway. They said it symbolized the liberation of Mongols from centuries of Chinese oppression.

Domel, the Japanese National News Agency, quoted Prince Teh as saying that the Mongols must resolutely go ahead under Japan's leadership and build up Asia, "long dominated by white men."

A Japanese army communique admitted that the Japanese column trying to hammer its way through the mountains of Eastern Shansi Province was making little progress.

The communique said the Japanese were besieging Pingting, walled city 65 miles east of the provincial capital, Suiyuanfu, contradicting previous Japanese reports that Pingting was captured two days ago.

MOSCOW, Oct. 29.—Death sentences for 51 persons, most of them charged with counter-revolutionary destruction of livestock or disruption of collective farming, were reported to Moscow today.

Six of those sentenced for wrecking cattle-breeding projects in Azov Province on the Black Sea already have been executed.

The provincial press reported one more death sentence in Azov Province, 10 in Moscow Province, 10 in the Krasnoyarsk region of Siberia, nine in the Saratov region on the Volga River, nine in various parts of the Ukraine, five in Voronezh Province and one in the Tartar Republic.

ASKS LA FOLLETTE COMMITTEE FOR INQUIRY AT TAMPA

Civil Liberties Organization Wants Acquittal of 5 Men After Flogging Murder Investigated.

By MARQUIS W. CHILDS, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The La Follette Civil Liberties Committee had on file today a plea for investigation of widespread violation of civil liberties in Florida and particularly in Tampa and Orlando where, it was charged, the Ku Klux Klan is dominant.

The charges were presented to the committee by Aron S. Gilmartin, secretary of the Committee for the Defense of Civil Liberties in Tampa. Gilmartin has been following the course of the recent trial, in which five men charged with the murder of Joseph E. Shoemaker were acquitted at the direction of Presiding Judge Robert T. Dewell.

Shoemaker, a World War veteran, was organizing the Modern Democrats in Tampa when he was kidnapped by a band of masked men and beaten into insensibility. He died some days later from his wounds. With him were Eugene Poulnot and Sam Rogers, who also were severely beaten.

Charges Given to Committee.

In the charges which he presented to Robert Whorlforth, chief investigator for the La Follette Committee, Gilmartin said that Shoemaker and the other Modern Democrats had actually succeeded in carrying a city election in Tampa, but, he alleged, the returns were falsified. It was shortly after this, on Nov. 30, 1935, that the three men were kidnapped.

Gilmartin charged that business men and politicians in Tampa raised a $75,000 defense fund for the seven defendants who were subsequently charged with kidnapping the three organizers of the Modern Democrats. He charged also that Judge Dewell was prejudiced and added that his committee would urge Gov. Clegg of Florida to remove Dewell.

In the first trial, on the kidnapping charge, five defendants, including three former Tampa policemen, were convicted. The State Supreme Court, however, ordered a new trial on a technicality. No steps have ever been taken to bring the men to trial again and Gilmartin said it was generally assumed in Florida that the second trial would never be held.

Says Klan Aims at CIO. Activities of the Klan, Gilmartin charged, are also directed at efforts of the Committee for Industrial Organization to organize workers in the citrus industry. He charged that a high officer of the Klan at Bartow, Fla., where the kidnaping and murder trials were held, had stated publicly that the "Klan will ride again, this time against the CIO."

Active in raising the defense fund and in obtaining bail for the seven charged with the kidnapping and murder was Eli Witt, head of a Tampa cigar company, according to Gilmartin. One of the defendants was a Klan leader from Orlando and five were former Tampa policemen. With their acquittal it is generally understood, Gilmartin said, the former policemen will be put back on the force.

Gilmartin said that later he would also present his charges before the Department of Justice in the hope that action can be taken similar to that which is being pushed in Harlan County, Kentucky, charging violation of basic civil liberties under an almost forgotten conspiracy statute.

"The facts in this reign of terror in Florida have never been brought out," Gilmartin said. "With the power vested in the La Follette Committee it would be possible to tell the whole story."

Senator La Follette is now in the Middle West, but Gilmartin said he would return to Washington later and take up the charges with him personally.

ROADS TO SEEK 15 PCT. FREIGHT RATE INCREASE

Association Announces It Will Ask Also for Higher Passenger Schedule.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—J. J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads, said today the association had decided to ask the Interstate Commerce Commission for approval of a blanket 15 per cent freight-rate increase.

The increase, he said, would apply to all classes of freight except coal, coke, lumber, fruit and vegetables, including citrus fruits and sugar. "Certain maximums," he said, would be sought later on those commodities.

In addition, Pelley said, the association would ask for increased passenger rates.

Passenger-fare increases to be included in the petition, he said, included: Additional charge of 1/4 cent a mile for coach fares in the Eastern District, bringing the new fare to 2 1/2 cents; a similar increase for Southern lines over the current 1 1/2 cents a mile rate, and a 5¢ increase for transcontinental fares on Western lines between Chicago and the Pacific Coast.

In the Eastern District, Pelley said, no change would be asked for in present Pullman and commutation rates. For the Western roads, he said, adjustments corresponding

It Will Purify Gas to Be Used in New Dirigible.

By the Associated Press.
FRANKFURT - ON-THE-MAIN, Germany, Oct. 29.—The Zeppelin company today ordered a helium-purifying plant built here, to be ready when the new Zeppelin, No. 130, takes the air next spring for its maiden voyage to Lakehurst, N. J.

Helium, which deteriorates in the course of time, will periodically be emptied from the airship containers and subjected to a process of purification and used again. It was explained the high cost of helium, which must be purchased from the United States, is the reason for strictest economy.

KILLS TWO WOLVES IN A WEEK

George Bruce Claims $10 Bounty on Carriaco Road Marauder.

For the second time this week, George Bruce, employe on the farm of S. H. Curlee on Carriaco road, near the Missouri River, today claimed a $10 bounty for killing a gray wolf.

Bruce took the body, weighing about 50 pounds, to the office of the County Clerk at Clayton. Last Monday he killed a wolf about the same size near a poultry house on the farm, from which a dozen fowls had been taken. Soon after sunrise today he shot the second wolf near the same place. Both were killed with a .22-caliber rifle.

JOHN L. LEWIS ON LABOR AND TECHNOLOGICAL ADVANCE

CIO Leader Says Workers Must Be Assured of Fair Share of Increased Productivity.

By the Associated Press.
BOSTON, Oct. 29.—John L. Lewis, Committee for Industrial Organization leader, writing in the current issue of the Tech Engineering News asserts that "undirected and uncontrolled, the amazing progress of the industrial arts may create such widespread displacement of labor as to endanger our whole social system."

Lewis suggests "certain broad lines of approach" to give the wage earner security in industry.

"Workers must be assured of receiving a fair participation in the increased productivity of industry due to technological changes," he says. "Our social security schemes must be liberalized."

"There must be a strengthening of labor union to the point where the workers in every major industry are organized units, capable of defending themselves against injustice, but also capable of lending their assistance in the efforts to solve the problems of industry. The processes of technology must be directed with a view to their social consequences."

BRADY GANG MEMBER INDICTED

James Dalhove Accused of Murdering State Trooper.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 29.—James Dalhove, sole survivor of the Al Brady gang, was indicted by a United States grand jury yesterday for the murder of a State policeman.

Dalhove, captured Oct. 12 at Bangor, Me., when Al Brady and Clarence Lee Shaffer, Jr. were killed by Federal agents and police, was charged with the murder of Patrolman Paul V. Minneman of Logansport, Ind. Another indictment charged Dalhove with the $2688 holdup of the Federally-insured Goodland (Ind.) State Bank from which the Brady gang was fleeing when they shot Minneman to death at a cross roads near Logansport. Conviction on the indictment would mean the death penalty.

SUPERINTENDENT OF MINE TELLS OF STRIKE LOSS

Fred A. Huff, superintendent of the United Electric Coal Co.'s Fidelity mine near Du Quoin, Ill., returned to the witness stand in United States District Judge Fred L. Wham's court at East St. Louis today as a witness in the company's $400,000 damage suit against seven locals and 66 individual members of the Progressive Miners of America.

The company contends it lost $300,000 in business through expected closing of its Red Ray mine near Freeburg from April 1, 1933 to Feb. 11, 1936, because of a strike, and was required to pay maintenance costs of $100,000.

Huff's testimony, consisting principally of operation data of the Fidelity mine, was intended to refute assertions of the defendants that no loss was suffered by closing the Red Ray mine because the Fidelity mine was capable of supplying all the company's requirements.

The superintendent testified that coal from his mine was of higher grade, that production cost was greater and that it would have been unable to meet the demand for coal during the busy season from October to April.

Before Huff began his testimony yesterday, L. G. Shorthouse, former secretary of the company, which has its offices in Chicago, quoted records showing the cost of producing coal at the Fidelity mine was 66 cents a ton while at the Red Ray mine it was only 50.3 cents. Both are strip mines. Under the Federal coal code in effect from October, 1933 to May, 1935, he said, it would have been a violation to sell the higher quality coal at a price which would meet that of fuel comparable in quality to that from the Red Ray mine.

An accountant for the company, Grant W. Heder of Oak Park, Ill., gave testimony from records showing the Red Ray mine made a net operating profit of $97,748 in 1930, $145,074 in 1931, $88,270 in 1932 and $46,863 during the operating period.

Trial of Company's $400,000 Damage Suit Against P. M. A. Locals Continues at East St. Louis.

Fred A. Huff, superintendent of the United Electric Coal Co.'s Fidelity mine near Du Quoin, Ill., returned to the witness stand in United States District Judge Fred L. Wham's court at East St. Louis today as a witness in the company's $400,000 damage suit against seven locals and 66 individual members of the Progressive Miners of America.

The company contends it lost $300,000 in business through enforced closing of its Red Ray mine near Freeburg from April 1, 1933 to Feb. 11, 1936, because of a strike, and was required to pay maintenance costs of $100,000.

Huff's testimony, consisting principally of operation data of the Fidelity mine, was intended to refute assertions of the defendants that no loss was suffered by closing the Red Ray mine because the Fidelity mine was capable of supplying all the company's requirements.

The superintendent testified that coal from his mine was of higher grade, that production cost was greater and that it would have been unable to meet the demand for coal during the busy season from October to April.

Before Huff began his testimony yesterday, L. G. Shorthouse, former secretary of the company, which has its offices in Chicago, quoted records showing the cost of producing coal at the Fidelity mine was 64 cents a ton while at the Red Ray mine it was only 50.3 cents. Both are strip mines. Under the Federal coal code in effect from October, 1933 to May, 1935, he said, it would have been a violation to sell the higher quality coal at a price which would meet that of fuel comparable in quality to that from the Red Ray mine.

An accountant for the company, Grant W. Heder of Oak Park, Ill., gave testimony from records showing the Red Ray mine made a net operating profit of $87,748 in 1930, $145,074 in 1931, $88,270 in 1932 and $68,883 during the operating period.

UNION MEN SUE FORD FOR $1,000,000 DAMAGES

Nine Seek Judgment for Injuries Suffered in Beatings at Gate of Plant.

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Oct. 28.—Nine officers and members of the United Automobile Workers of America filed suits in Wayne County Circuit Court today asking $1,000,000 damages from the Ford Motor Co., and Harry H. Bennett, Ford personnel director for injuries allegedly resulting from fighting near the Ford Rouge plant May 26.

The fighting accompanied a U A W attempt to distribute union literature at the plant gates. The suits named the Ford company, Bennett and other persons designated as agents or employees of the company.

Asking damages of $100,000 each are Walter Reuther, president of the U A W West Side local; Richard T. Frankenstein, assistant president of the U A W; Robert Kanter, Harold Jouday, Alvin Slickle, Robert Sentman and Stella Michalek. Damages of $150,000 each are asked by Tony Marinovich and William Merriweather. Marinovich said his skull was fractured and Merriweather said his back was broken. Henry Ford, founder, and Edsel Ford, president of the automobile company, were not personally named in the suits.

of 1936. Tonnage figures were: 260,196 in 1930, 355,709 in 1931, 239,620 in 1932, 66,795 in three months of 1933 and 211,741 in the operating period of 1936.

He listed shut-down expenses of $46,497 and overhead costs of $49,184 for a total of $95,681 during the period the mine was closed.

With the filing of the suit in August, 1936, William Keck, then president of the Progressive Miners, asserted it was "aimed directly at the time-tested right of organized workers of the United States to strike and peacefully picket."

The suit followed an injunction obtained by the company after the United States Circuit Court of Appeals directed its issuance by Judge Wham, who had declined to interfere with picketing at the Red Ray mine, in view of the labor clause of the Norris-LaGuardia Act.

In reversing Judge Wham, the Appellate Court held the company was "an innocent bystander" in a fight between two rival unions. The company had operated under a contract with the United Mine Workers of America until its expiration April 1, 1932, and a year later it offered its employees another U. M. W. A. contract. They had joined the Progressive Miners, however, and refused to accept it. Following the injunction, work was resumed with United Mine Workers.

20,000,000 NEEDY HELPED—SAYS SOCIAL SECURITY BOARD

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—More than 20,000,000 needy persons, including the aged, blind and young, have shared $230,245,438 in Federal grants to states, the Social Security Board said today. The totals covered the board's work since February, 1935.

Public assistance grants for the aged, the blind and dependent children accounted for $214,464,571 of the outlay. The balance of $15,960, 885 paid the cost of administering State unemployment compensation laws for 21,000,000 insured workers. The needy and dependent supported by the grants now total 1,996,200, including 1,469,700 aged, 39,000 blind, and 487,500 children. The board estimated that combined Federal, State and local contributions paid this group in October would aggregate $34,150,000, the bulk of it going to the aged.

An analysis of August payments, the last month for which complete reports are available, showed the average paid to each elderly person was $18.54; to the blind, $24.66; and to families having dependent children, $30.74.

DOUGLASS UNIVERSITY NOW HAS 54 STUDENTS

Eleven Full-Time Faculty Members at Negro Institution; 17 Part-Time Instructors.

Fifty-four Negro students are enrolled at Douglass University, 3826 Finney avenue, now in its second year. Because the school is still in its infancy, the 11 full-time faculty members get only $20 a month and carfare, while the 17 part-time instructors are not being paid. Herman Dreer, secretary of the school, said to a Post-Dispatch reporter today.

Students pay $35 a semester tuition. About one in 10 holds a scholarship, whereas almost all were on scholarships when the school opened. Dreer, who is assistant principal of Sumner High School, said. Other income for the university comes from individual gifts, contributions by Negro churches, which give $2, $3 and $4 a month, and receipts from social affairs given by the Young Ladies' Auxiliary and the Senior Women's Auxiliary. As part of that fund-raising program, a concert was given last night by Miss Virginia Mae Fleming, blind Negro pianist of Terre Haute, Ind., at Vashon High School.

Another source of income is the sale of 10-cent pamphlets written by faculty members. Subjects include "The Humanity of Jesus," "Meditations—My Philosophy of Life," and "Slavery in the Roman Empire."

Liberal Arts and Religion. Of the total enrollment of 54 students, 15 are in the College of Liberal Arts, 12 in the College of Religion, 20 in Business Administration and seven in the Institute, or high school division. All but 15 of the pupils attend classes at night.

Under its charter, granted by the State in 1926, the school offers Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Theology and Bachelor of Science in Business Administration degrees. Thus far only one degree has been awarded, a Bachelor of Theology in Religious Education, to Mrs. Lizzie Mosley Turner, who studied at the school for a year, after study at other universities. Five honorary degrees have been awarded, two Masters of Arts and three Doctors of Divinity.

The school, now occupying a 10-room residence, was opened in 1926 by the late B. F. Bowles, former principal of an East St. Louis high school. At that time it was at Pine boulevard and Leffingwell avenue. Later it was moved to West Belle and Pendleton avenues and then closed in 1928.

Reopened Two Years Ago. Dreer became interested in the school and reopened it two years ago. Last Sept. 7 the institution moved to its present location. Enrollment, which had been down to 24 students last June, immediately doubled.

Dreer gave up the presidency of the school because he was unable to give it much time and was succeeded by Freeman L. Martin, Negro attorney. Most of the faculty members, like Dreer, teach at Sumner or Vashon high schools.

Douglass University was named for Frederick Douglass, Negro abolitionist and United States Minister to Haiti, who died in 1895 in Washington. He was a presidential elector and recorder of deeds and marshal in the District of Columbia.

The only other colleges for Negroes in the city are Storer Teachers' College and the National Youth Administration freshman extension division at that school.

JUDGE DISCHARGES YOUTH WHO ADMITTED CHICKEN STEALING

Cases Against Two Other Defendants Dismissed in Belleville Circuit Court.

Cases against three defendants were dismissed yesterday in Circuit Court at Belleville by Judge Dick H. Mudge.

After hearing evidence against Oscar Gasser, 20-year-old farmhand of Floraville, Ill., charged with chicken stealing, Judge Mudge dismissed his plea of guilty and discharged him, deeming testimony against him insufficient to warrant conviction. Neither he nor his twin brother, Walter, who also pleaded guilty, was represented by an attorney. Walter Gasser's case was taken under advisement.

A charge of operating a confidence game against Albert Huber, a former deputy collector of the Bureau of Internal Revenue at Belleville, was dismissed when the prosecuting witness, Mrs. Margaret Reisser, Belleville, failed to appear. She had alleged that Huber, when he was a bond salesman in 1934, had failed to deliver a bond he had agreed to give her in an exchange.

A charge of assault with intent to commit murder against Roy B. Patterson, East St. Louis railroad yardmaster, was dismissed when Leon Jennings, former East St. Louisan, shot and seriously wounded last December by Patterson after a collision between their automobiles, failed to appear when the case was called for trial. Patterson had driven away after firing the shot which struck Jennings, but surrendered later, telling police he thought the other man and two companions were going to assault him. Witnesses in Jennings' machine said he was shot without provocation, police reported.

William Friend, Actor Dies. NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—William Friend, 73 years old, retired actor, who made his stage debut with the Catherine Lewis Opera Company in 1884, died Wednesday in Bellevue Hospital from a heart ailment. His last engagement was on tour with "Lysistrata."

KNUDSEN SAYS LABOR MUST GET TOGETHER

General Motors Head Pleads for Narrowing Gulf Between Worker and Employer.

By the Associated Press.
BOSTON, Oct. 29.—William S. Knudsen, president of General Motors Corporation, last night expressed the belief that the two camps of labor eventually will get together.

"If they don't, I can see no hope for either side," he told the Associated Industries of Massachusetts in an address which was in large part a plea for "narrowing the gulf between labor and capital."

Though he did not mention the American Federation of Labor or the Committee for Industrial Organization by name, he frequently referred to craft and industrial unionization.

Taxation "Near Confiscation." In a prepared address, from which he frequently departed, Knudsen said "Taxation of capital is just reaching the point where it is but a few steps ahead of confiscation, and we all know what that means."

"I sincerely trust that ways and means will be found to arrest this class movement before it becomes so strong that nothing can stop it," Knudsen said.

"American industry must go forward, fight or no fight," he asserted. "Let us hope we can go forward peacefully and in an orderly manner, without class cleavage entering into the question."

"Our standard of living has been

NORWEGIAN VISITOR

MINISTER OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS who is visiting the United States. He discussed Norwegian-American affairs at the State Department with Secretary of State Hull.

obtained by narrowing the gulf between capital and labor. To widen it will unquestionably tend to lower the standard of living instead of raising it."

He said craft unionization was natural, "but to say that a tool-maker's first-class grinder should concern himself with the plight of his union brother who is pushing a truck is taking a pretty general view. This is one of the dangers of the industrial union as far as strikes are concerned."

"A strike," he continued, "binds everybody in the shop to take up the dispute of somebody they are not at all interested in, with the result that the union officials have to hastily dig up enough grievances for everybody, in order to hold the strike together, regardless of whether conditions in nine-tenths of the plants are satisfactory."

Dangers to the Union. On the other hand, it also is dangerous to the union because the worker is generally hard-headed enough to size up the dispute from his own standpoint and objects to losing time if he gains nothing thereby. Also the union officials have difficulty preventing some young hot-head from shutting down a plant employing thousands of people because a few of his fellows have an argument about something."

"I think that labor's fair share in the proceeds of business should be determined by what the pay envelope buys, and that the relationship of costs to prices should be examined before a false money standard per day or per annum is proposed."

"You know we can not grow corn by killing the farmer. Management has to keep the wheels of industry going. The profit motive can not be destroyed without destroying private capital, which means destroying private industry."

"Government Stepped In." Knudsen said the automobile strike "was ill-planned and would have been abortive or have caused bloody riots but for the fact the Government finally stepped in and practically ordered settlements on a temporary basis of recognition for members, and the collective bargaining clause was saved for the union."

"I do not want ever to be in a position of criticizing our administration," he said, "but I do think that all this hue and cry about collective bargaining could have been considerably less expensive if some ground rules had been set up."

"I think that with the Wagner Act in force, everything depends upon whether it will smooth out or lessen industrial stoppages. If it won't, it probably will fall of its own weight, or it will be necessary to strengthen it so that it will function in an orderly manner."

"To say that it is the Magna Charta of labor is all right, but it must prove its value in giving men uninterrupted work with consequent better earnings, or it will be a Magna Charta no longer."

PART INTEREST PAYMENT BY WABASH AUTHORIZED

U. S. Court Approves Meeting of 80 Pct. of Obligation; Total to Be Received $800,000.

Payment of 80 per cent of interest totaling $1,000,475, or about $800,000, on obligations of the Wabash Railroad and its subsidiaries was authorized by United States District Judge Charles B. Davis yesterday on application of Frank C. Nicodemus Jr. and Norman Pitcairn, receivers for the road. Obligations on which 80 per cent will be paid with interest due dates, are as follows: Wabash first mortgage gold bonds, Nov. 1, $847,275; Columbus & St. Louis Railway Co. first mortgage 4 per cent gold bonds, Nov. 1, $400; Detroit & Chicago extension, first mortgage 5 per cent bonds, Nov. 1, $46,100; Des Moines division, first mortgage 4 per cent gold bonds, Jan. 1, $32,000, and first lien terminal 4 per cent bonds, Jan. 1, $71,100. The Court withheld authorization of an 80 per cent payment on interest on two divisions totaling $115,309, due next March and April, and suggested the receivers file application later. The obligations were of the Toledo & Chicago division, first mortgage 4 per cent bonds, due March 1, $60,000, and the Omaha division, first mortgage 3 1/2 per cent, due April 1, $55,309.

OFFER OF $100 EACH FOR FIVE STATE PARKS

Anonymous 'Friend of Conservation' Specifies Big Oak Reservation as One.

An offer of $100 each toward establishment of five State parks of at least 1000 acres each has been made to A. P. Greensfelder of St. Louis, vice-chairman of the new State Wild Life Conservation Commission by an anonymous "friend of conservation."

One of the parks specified was the proposed Big Oak reservation in Mississippi County, for which a commission appointed by Gov.
Stark is seeking land. The commission also has been receiving donations for its work, following the conditional offer of a public-spirited citizen to donate 80 acres, provided the price was reasonable and the community would obtain at least 920 acres additional. The 80-acre unit would include the Big Oak, largest oak in Missouri.

Another park under the new offer for five preserves would be in St. Louis County or Jefferson County. The remaining three would be in the northern half of the State, as the prospective donor was of the opinion that section should have more public recreation areas. By far the greater portion of State park and national forest area in Missouri is in the Ozark region.

General location of the three suggested northern tracts would be as follows: The Mineola Hills region around United States Highway No.
40 in Montgomery County; district along the Mississippi River between Clarksville and Hannibal; section between Kansas City and St.
Joseph.

No steps have been taken to establish any of these parks, except the one in Mississippi County.
Gov. Stark said to a Post-Dispatch reporter at Jefferson City that the anonymous offer had not been called to his attention officially, but that Greensfelder had mentioned it to him. The Governor declared the idea was "fine" and expressed hope that it would result in establishment of the parks.

12 DEER KILLED FIRST DAY OF SEASON, THREE ILLEGALLY

Six in Franklin County, Six in Gasconade; State Hunting Period to Close Tomorrow.

By The Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 29.—

Kills of nine legal and three illegal deer were reported to the State Conservation Commission last night after the first day of the three-day season. Officials pointed out that hunters have three days in which to notify the commission of kills.

Five of the legally killed animals were taken yesterday in Franklin County near Meramec State Park, and four in Gasconade County near Swiss, Mo. These two counties, with Taney, accounted for more than half of the 1936 total of 82.
L. B. Hopkins, Drake, Mo., reported the first kill. He shot a four-point buck near Swiss and about 45 minutes after the season opened half an hour before sunrise. Nelson West, Fulton, bagged a five-point deer two hours later, also near Swiss. Names of the other successful hunters were not sent to the commission.

Joe E. Green, chief of the warden department, confiscated two illegal deer in Gasconade County. W. G. Noble, warden assigned to Meramec Park for the deer season, found one in Franklin County. Shooting of bucks with less than four points to the antler, does and fawns is prohibited by the State law.

The first day of shooting ended a half hour after sunset last night.
The 30-minute twilight period was considered a crucial one for the fleet animals, since they feed and move about at night. The season will close tomorrow night.

PEACE SOCIETIES CONDEMN
U. S. POLICY IN ORIENT

Declare It Leaves Issue of Peace and War to the Navy.

By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Six peace organizations said today that the United States policy regarding the Chinese-Japanese conflict had left "control of peace and war issues to the navy."

A statement by the organization contended that this was indicated in a recent order to American marines defending the International Settlement at Shanghai to fire on all attacking airplanes.

(The order was issued early this week by Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, commanding American naval forces at Shanghai. It was issued after a Japanese plane had fired on a group of foreigners which included Americans.)

The peace organizations said
Yarnell's order was "clear proof that the administration's 24-hour policy is leading toward war and is directly opposed to the letter and spirit of the neutrality law."

The organizations are the National Council for the Prevention of War, Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, World Peaceways, Emergency
Peace Campaign, Following of Reconciliation, and Committee on Militarism in Education.

Deaths in Alaska Blast Reach 14.

YOUTH GETS SIX MONTHS FOR STABBING MAN FATALLY

Harry A. Weisell Found Guilty of Manslaughter in Death of Dennis Lawler.

Harry A. Weisell, 19 years old, was found guilty of manslaughter by a jury in Circuit Judge Frank C. O'Malley's court yesterday, and sentenced to six months in the workhouse for the death of Dennis Lawler, 65, in a fight at the latter's home, 6744 (rear) Nashville avenue, the night of April 23.

Weisell testified he went to Lawler's home, after Lawler had sent for him to give him a job. When he got there, he said, Lawler started to abuse him, and they got into a fight. He testified he stabbed Lawler with a pocketknife, when Lawler attempted to strike him with a flashlight. Lawler died of his wounds the next day at City Hospital. Weisell lives at 6734
Plateau avenue.

TWO YEARS' WORK OF N. L. R. B.
Disputes Involving 2,430,000 Persons Submitted to Board.

By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The National Labor Relations Board announced yesterday that labor disputes involving 2,430,436 workers in interstate industry had been taken to the board for solution during the first two years of its operation.

In a summary of its work over 24 months, the board disclosed it was beginning its third year with 3280 cases awaiting disposal out of 8592 filed since the early fall of 1935. The 5332 cases disposed involved approximately 500,000 workers. Most of the settled cases were cleared from the board's docket by agreements between employers and the complaining labor organizations.

Copper Miners' Pay Cut.
By the Associated Press.
BUTTE, Mont., Oct. 29.—Officers of the Anaconda Copper Mining Co. announced last night a reduction of 25 cents a shift in the wages of mine, smelter and refinery workers. Approximately 12,000 will be affected. The company said the reduction was the result of lower market prices for copper and was provided for in agreements with employees.

Cuban Governor Indicted.
HAVANA, Oct. 29.—The Supreme Court of Cuba indicted Gov. Celestino Balzan last night on charges of "offense against the free functioning of the Provincial Council." The charges were an outgrowth of the fatal shooting Oct. 21 of Severiano Pulido, president of the Provincial Legislature, in the legislative chamber. The court found insufficient evidence for indictment on accusations of "inducing" the attack on Pulido. Two other persons also were indicted, making a total of 17 held for trial in the case.

How 20,000 St. Louis Destitute View City-State Impasse On Cost of Relief This Winter

Still Being Fed, They Lack Cash to Pay Rent But Muddle Along, Hoping "Something Will Happen."

While the debate goes on between the relief rolls which wouldn't be there if the Social Security Commission's program for aiding mothers with dependent children was in operation. Early this year the Legislature appropriated $1,500,000 for that purpose and the Federal Government stands ready to add to the appropriation a grant of $787,500, but the Social Security Commission will not be ready to start spending that money until after the first of the year.

The third youngest of the children in this Madison street family is a girl, 7 years old, who ought to be in school, but her mother keeps her home because she isn't properly clothed. Her dress hangs on her like a potato sack, and her only shoes are a pair of ventilated summer sandals, on which the straps have been broken. The other children wear ill-fitting shoes which have been discarded by their playmates.

Her Rent Goes Unpaid.
The family has been on relief ever since the father died, and for a "little while" before that. He had been a cook at one of the better downtown restaurants. Now the mother gets $25.55 a month from the relief administration for food. Formerly they paid her rent of $10 a month, but it was due today and was not paid. She got coal last winter, but this winter the family has had "only a few buckets" that the children have been able to scrounge up. The electric light company has not yet turned off the electricity.

Another family which could be taken off the relief rolls if the State was assisting mothers with dependent children is that of a widow with three children who lives in a furnished room on Wash street. She has been on relief since her husband died, three years ago, getting $22.40 a month for food, and until this month, $12 for rent. Now the landlady is "carrying her."

The threat of eviction hangs over the heads of many, but there have been relatively few evictions so far. It's hard for those on relief to find quarters, even in those periods when the relief administration is paying rents, because landlords know that there are periods when rents are not paid.

Vouchers Warn Landlords.
One man, once a skilled machinist, now crippled by arthritis because of an occupational disease, who took the money he got in a damage suit against his former employer to buy a cigar store which failed, told of his futile efforts to rent a place a month or two ago, while rents were still being paid by the Relief Administration. He succeeded only by a ruse, when a minister who knew of his plight dug into his own pocket for the first month's rent. When the relief administration is paying rents it does so by vouchers, which puts landlords on notice that prospective tenants are on relief.

The instances heretofore cited cover the plight of typical families on the relief rolls who might not be there if the State were paying adequate old-age pensions or if it were making payments to mothers of dependent children; of relief families whose problems arise from illness; of those whose children are inadequately clothed; of those facing eviction.

There are others, whose plight is not so desperate, because they have some income, even if it is insufficient for their needs, and they have been denied relief for months before the present crisis arose.

Need for Food Burdens Them.
Of these, the Social Planning Council said recently: "Their situation is becoming increasingly and rapidly more aggravated. Most of them are so concerned about the daily need for food that they are unable to use any systematic and thoughtful plan for making even inadequate substitute plans. Those who have been in closest contact with these people feel strongly the force of helplessness that is weighing them down and chipping them."

Among these might be counted a W P A worker, his wife, and nine children, who occupy a four-room second floor flat on Caroline street. The father gets $55 a month, and the eldest boy works for the N Y A at $19 a month. That makes $84 a month to feed, clothe and shelter a family of 11—about $20 short of what it takes, as the father calculates it.

He used to work for a packing house and got along all right until illness laid him low for two years. For a year and a half of that period the family was on relief.

The mother, holding her seven-month-old son in her lap, explained how they were getting along now: "The rent was due on the twentieth, and it wasn't paid. That's Father, Head of Public Service Board and One of Project's Directors, Denies Part in Hiring.

Clarence Brown, son of Baxter L. Brown, president of the Board of Public Service, has been appointed to a $200-a-month W P A job in connection with revision of the city building code, it was learned today. He replaced Fred Hargreaves, who had held the job for eight months until work was suspended temporarily Sept. 15 because of lack of funds.

Hargreaves said he had expected to be re-employed when the work was resumed but feared upon making inquiry of R. M. Bristol, a member of the steering committee of 12 in charge of the undertaking, that he had been dismissed. Bristol told him, he said, he had not been turning out his work fast enough. He denied this.

Exater Brown, also a member of the steering committee, said he took no part in the proceedings in which the committee recommended dismissal of Hargreaves and employment of Clarence Brown. Both Hargreaves and Clarence Brown are civil engineers.

MAIL CLERK, ACCUSED OF THEFT, KILLS SELF

Fires Shot Into Head When Confronted by Inspectors in Rail Car.

Roderick B. Masius, a railway mail clerk residing in St. Louis until about two months ago when he moved to Marion, Ark., shot himself in the head Wednesday evening in his mail car at Memphis, Tenn., when confronted by Postoffice inspectors who accused him of stealing letters from the mail. He died early yesterday at Methodist Hospital, Memphis.

Inspectors, who said they had received frequent complaints that letters containing money sent on the St. Louis-Memphis run were not reaching their destination, later reported they found 58 letters, among them four decoy letters sent by them, in a workbox owned by Masius.

The inspectors approached Masius Wednesday evening when he was leaving his car at the finish of his run. They asked him to return to the car and place on a table there his personal possessions, which included a service revolver carried by all mail clerks.

No letters were discovered until the workbox which Masius was carrying was opened. There in one end was a package of letters, later found to have been taken from the mail sent on his run. When Inspector Edward J. Kukferer asked Masius to pick up the letters, Masius grasped the revolver instead and shot himself with it.

Most of the letters were addressed to the Rev. J. A. Finney of Perryville, Mo., and some of them contained remittances for Christmas cards which Father Finney sold to help support a school which he conducts at Perryville.

Funeral services for Masius, 53 years old, will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. at the Pleitsch Mortuary, 5968 Easton avenue. He had been in the mail service about 30 years and is survived by his wife, who resides in Maplewood.

HOW CITY'S 20,000 DESTITUTE VIEW RELIEF IMPASSE

"Our insurance is behind, and we have no coal. I get a quart of milk a day for the baby, but we can't afford milk for the twins (2½ years old) and the nurse at school said the seven-year-old boy needed milk, but we can't buy it for him."

Goes From Meal to Meal.

Dinner was cooking on the stoves of thousands of St. Louis homes while this conversation took place, and this mother was asked what her family would eat that night. "Oh, I don't know," she said, "we just go along from meal to meal on what we can get. There isn't any money in the house, but today is pay day on the WPA and we will get something when my husband comes home."

Well, what had the family eaten the night before?

"We had hog hearts—they're 16 cents a pound and I got 30 cents worth, and mashed potatoes—a 10-pound sack costs 15, sometimes 19 cents, and we get about three meals out of a sack; and biscuits that I made, we get a 24-pound sack of flour and that lasts us about two weeks."

Last winter the relief administration helped the family out with a ton of coal each month, and a grocery order for about $20.

Church Federation Asks Members to Urge Speedy Relief Settlement.

Ministers are being asked by the Metropolitan Church Federation to urge their congregations next Sunday to write to Mayor Dickmann and Gov. Stark, requesting immediate action to end the deadlock between the city and State over the financing of relief costs in St. Louis.

The Mayor and the Board of Aldermen have insisted that the city will make no further relief appropriations, while the Governor and the State Social Security Commission have insisted that the State will pay no more than 60 per cent of the cost.

In letters being sent to ministers, Dean Sidney Sweet of Christ Church Cathedral, president of the Church Federation, points out that of the 20,000 persons on relief more than 10,000 are children, and 4,000 are adults classified as "unemployable."

Unless the deadlock is ended, Dean Sweet says, "slow starvation" faces those on the relief rolls.

VILLAGE INCORPORATION PLEA
Hearing on Bel-Nor Petition Set for Nov. 15.

A petition for incorporation of the Village of Bel-Nor was filed with the County Court at Clayton today and set for hearing Nov. 15.

The proposed village would include about 180 acres south of Natural Bridge road, east of Carson road, north of Normandy Golf Club and Lake Charles Burial Park and west of Bellerive drive. It has a population of 677, the petition stated, and 408 of 504 adults in the area favored the proposal. Incorporation was sought, the court was told, to establish a local government, provide police protection and permit construction of a sewage disposal plant by bond issue.

Clark Gable's Accuser Still Held.
SANTA ANA, Cal., Oct. 29.—Her conviction of mail fraud in the Clark Gable paternity case reversed, Mrs. Violet Wells Norton remained in jail here today as Federal authorities discussed the possibility of prosecution on other charges. She still faces deportation to Canada.

RETAIL MEAT PRICES FALL SUBSTANTIALLY

Pork Down as Much as 13
Cents a Pound—Beef
Also Lower.

Retail prices of beef and pork have fallen substantially in the last three weeks, butchers in the Union Market district, outlying sections, and in the county said to a Post-Dispatch reporter today.

Downtown markets today are selling pork chops for 29 cents a pound. Three weeks ago the cost was 42 cents a pound. A chain store manager reported sirloin steak now is 35 cents compared with 39 and 40 cents only a few weeks ago.

In the county one butcher said he was buying wholesale beef of better grades 4 cents a pound cheaper than the price quoted him three weeks ago. Pork, in his store, is off 7 cents a pound compared with prices a month ago.

Some butchers, especially in the downtown area, said they had made no appreciable reduction in the price of beef for retail trade, despite the lower wholesale prices. They said that when the price of beef skyrocketed during the past year, they were unable to advance prices high enough to obtain a fair margin of profit. Now that wholesale prices are falling, they hope to keep prices at the same level and realize some of what they said they lost during the increased cost days.

No major packing house in the city was willing to have its firm's name used in connection with an announcement of reduced wholesale prices, but representatives of the companies agree wholesale beef and pork prices were lower. One referred to an article appearing Wednesday in the Institute of American Packers, official publication of the packing industry, in which wholesale meat prices were estimated to have fallen 11 per cent.

Packing company representatives assigned as the main reason for the price drop seasonal conditions in the industry. They said the lower price of feed and a slight increase in supply also had its effect.

Butchers were a little more blunt in saying a general drop in demand for beef cuts of the higher grade was the reason for the price decrease in that line. They said they believed pork prices dropped because more pigs and hogs were offered for sale to packers.

$107,000 TO PHILANTHROPY IN FELIX M. WARBURG WILL

Amount Limited Because of $13,000,000 Donation in Last 15 Years of Life.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 28. — Felix M. Warburg, financier, gave $13,000,000 to philanthropic causes the last 15 years of his life and because of these donations left only $107,000 to charitable and educational enterprises in his will filed yesterday. He died Oct. 20.

The largest charitable bequest in the will was $50,000 for support of Jewish philanthropic societies of New York.

He left to his widow homes in New York and White Plains, N. Y., as well as his personal property and other real estate.

Individual bequests of $250,000 each were left to his five children, Frederick M. Warburg, Mrs. Carolina W. Rothschild, Paul F. Warburg, Gerald F. Warburg and Edward M. M. Warburg. They also will share equally in the residue of the estate. Trust funds of $100,000 each were left to eight grandchildren.

Inside Story of CIO-A. F. L. Parley

selives to yield to the obvious necessities of the situation—a situation created by the growth of the mass production industries, and the decline of the crafts—it is difficult to see how the conflict can be reconciled. We are bound to go ahead on the line we have chosen."

How well the foregoing describes the situation may be judged from the following account of what happened behind the closed doors of the conference room in the Willard Hotel when the representatives of the two organizations met Monday morning. Murray headed a committee of 10, representing the CIO, while the Federation was represented by three men—Walter M. Harrison, president of the Railway Clerks' Union; Matthew Wolf of the Photo-Engravers, and G. M. Bugniaset of the Electrical Workers' Union.

CIO Springs Surprise.
As has been told, the CIO committee was empowered originally to agree only on the size of the committees which would conduct actual peace negotiations, while the A. F. of L. committee professed to have complete authority to negotiate and conclude an agreement. The CIO wanted a committee of 100 to represent each side; the A. F. of L. representatives insisted they didn't need reinforcements.

Murray, the canny Scotsman, pulled a surprise at the outset, when he moved that reporters be admitted to the meeting. He said the public had a vital interest in the outcome, and was entitled to know what was being done. Harrison rejected that suggestion, emphasizing the difficulties of negotiating under such conditions. Throughout the morning session the conferees argued about the size of the negotiating committees, Murray insisting on "a town meeting" where everyone with an interest or a grievance can get it off his chest. Harrison, for his part, "clear the atmosphere," for serious negotiation. Harrison asked for time to consider, and returned from lunch with the reply that his committee didn't have authority to expand itself.

The CIO committee then questioned the A. F. of L. committee's authority generally, and asked Harrison to define its powers. There were some disagreeable intimations that the A. F. of L. committee was reporting to, and taking orders from, the A. F. of L. executive council. Harrison made a heated denial.

Murray Submits Proposal.
Finally Murray, who undoubtedly had been in communication with Lewis, suddenly announced that, since the A. F. of L. conferees would not yield on the issue of size, and since it professed to have full powers to negotiate, the CIO committee would assume equal powers, and would be prepared to submit a proposal Tuesday morning. He suggested that Harrison likewise palpably surprised, Harrison said he would make an effort to comply.

As is known, Murray submitted his proposal promptly Tuesday morning. As readers of this newspaper will recall, the meat of the proposal was that the A. F. of L. accept the policy of industrial organization in the mass production industries, and in the Marine, public utilities, service and basic fabrication industries, and that CIO become an independent, autonomous "department" of the A. F. of L. It was plain at a glance that acceptance of the plan actually would result in making the A. F. of L. a "department" of CIO.

Simultaneously with the submission of the proposal, Murray released it to the press. When Harrison learned that fact, he protested bitterly, saying the conferees should have had an opportunity to consider it privately. Murray repeated that the public had a "vital interest," and again proposed to throw the meeting open. Harrison asked the conference to recess for the remainder of the day, which was done.

It was in describing this incident that Joe Curran, huge, hulking, horn-handed president of the Maritime Union, and a member of the CIO Committee, remarked to reporters:

"Well, you can't expect men to come out of a dead faint, and go right on negotiating."

A. F. of L. Counter Proposal.
As is known, Harrison brought in the A. F. of L. counter proposal Wednesday morning, virtually demanding that the CIO surrender unconditionally. It offered to take back the 10 suspended unions, and to "adjust" the status of the new unions which were in jurisdictional conflict with existing A. F. of L. unions. Acceptance of the latter apparently would have meant that the new giant industrial unions, such as those in the automobile, steel, rubber and transport industries, would be dissolved, and their members distributed among existing craft unions.

Murray was ready with a brisk rejection—so ready, indeed, that the reporters were surprised. The amusing fact is, that, so confident were CIO leaders of what the A. F. of L. proposal would contain, they had prepared their answer the night before, and printed mimeographed copies for the newspapers. Harrison's temper, already strained to the limits of endurance gave way, and a stormy scene ensued.

CIO Men "Testify."
During the Tuesday meeting, Harrison had questioned the number of dues-paying members claimed by CIO unions, and asked for data. Purporting to respond to this request, Murray now (Wednesday) called upon several of his colleagues to describe the unions which they headed. What ensued was a combination of data, defiance, recrimination and professions of religion.

James Carey, president of the United Radio, Electrical Manufacturing & Machine Workers, "testified" that he had entreated the A. F. of L. in vain for an industrial charter, before turning to CIO. Since then, he said, membership in his union had grown from 6000 to 130,000, had adopted its own constitution and elected its own officers, and had concluded agreements with some of the largest corporations in the country. No power on earth, he declared, could induce his union to dissolve, and submit to distribution among the crafts unions.

Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers, "testified" that for two years he fought with the executive council of the A. F. of L. to give his union an industrial charter, and was refused. Then it turned to CIO. Since then, he said, membership has increased from 30,000 to 400,000, and the union has agreements with every important manufacturer except Ford, and has a treasury surplus of $1,000,000.

"Come into the A. F. of L. and be split up into 40 different craft unions, each powerless to deal with the employers?" he asked, rhetorically, smiled, and sat down.

Like Revival Meeting.
And so with Curran, whose maritime union has grown from nothing to 73,000 members in 18 months; Mike Quill, one-time Sinn Feiner, who has brought the United Transport Workers from 3000 to 90,000—mostly in New York City—within the last year; and Harvey Fremming, whose infant Petroleum Workers' Union has enlisted 80,000 since coming under the wing of the CIO. It had something of the atmosphere of an old-fashioned revival meeting, with one "convert" after another testifying before the congregation as to how he had been "saved" by CIO.

That was the note on which the conference adjourned. Harrison had business in New York. David Dubinsky, president of the Ladies Garment Workers, was eager to get back to campaign for Mayor La Guardia. Murray had no immediate or pressing business, but he repaired immediately to the United Mine Workers' office, where he shares suites with Lewis, and visitors have reported hearing long chuckles from the inner sanctum.

There was one development concerning which the writer has no inside information. Will, member of the Federation Committee, announced that he had been invited to the President's home at Hyde Park.

A CIO official, asked whether "pressure" from that source might be expected to influence the situation, countered with the reply: "Ask the other side."

ACCUSED OF KEEPING $2940 AFTER BUSINESS DEAL FAILED

University City Man Held on Complaint of East St. Louis Grocer.

William Schrader, 708 Interdiver avenue, University City, was turned over to Belleville authorities yesterday on a warrant charging operation of a confidence game.

The warrant was issued on complaint of an East St. Louis grocer, Ben Routman, who alleged that Schrader had refused to return $2940 taken after a business enterprise, for which it was to be used, had been abandoned.

Schrader told reporters that Routman owed him a fee for services in the deal and that he kept the money until a settlement could be reached.

KANSAS CITY ELECTION BOARD STILL IN DOUBT

Three Appointees Agree to Serve Provided Chairman Is Acceptable to Them.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 29.—Success of the attempt by Gov. Stark to appoint a Board of Election Commissioners for Kansas City which will be free of domination by the Boss Pendergast Democratic machine, apparently hinges on the Governor's ability to find a satisfactory appointee for chairman of the board, to replace Robert L. Mehornay, Democrat, of Kansas City, who declined to serve.

The other three men drafted by the Governor for posts on the bipartisan Election Board conferred with the Governor here last night, without definitely accepting the appointments tendered by the Governor "as a civic duty."

The conference was held at the request of the three men—Edgar Shook, Democrat, and David B. Forrester and Lewis Ellis, Republicans. While all concerned in the conference declined to make public statements, it is understood these three gave assurance they would accept the posts, if a satisfactory man, free of political entanglements and of high public standing, was selected for the chairmanship.

Only One Approved by Boss. Mehornay, former president of the Kansas City Board of Education, and the only one of the four chosen for the Election Board posts to receive a nod of approval from Boss Pendergast, declined to serve, on the ground private business interests would keep him out of the State for some time and make it impossible for him to accept the office. Announcement of his decision was made by the Governor last Wednesday, five days after the Governor appointed the new board.

As has been told, Boss Pendergast, on one of his periodical sojourns in New York, described the four men selected by the Governor as "three good Republicans and one good Democrat," and tagged the "good Democrat" as Mehornay. The Governor said, when the appointments were announced, that he did not consult Pendergast and that the latter had made no new recommendations since his original request for reappointment of Chairman Fred Billemeier and George V. Ayward as Democratic members of the board, was rejected by Stark last July. However, a list of the four men chosen reached Pendergast and it is known that it was returned to the Governor's office with "Yes" opposite Mehornay's name and no comment on the other three.

A Pleasant Conference. Shook, Forrester and Ellis arrived here by train early last evening and spent two and a half hours with the Governor in his office at the Capitol.

At the conclusion of the conference the Governor told a Post-Dispatch reporter "there is nothing to announce at this time," but said he may be in a position to announce final action in three or four days. He had said yesterday that he had not selected an appointee to replace Mehornay and that he had no idea who the appointee would be.

The Governor, after repeatedly declining to comment on the conference, said there had been no definite acceptances from Shook, Forrester or Ellis, but that there had been no refusals of the proffered appointments.

To all other questions the Governor replied, "We had a very pleasant conference."

It is understood, however, that Shook, Ellis and Forrester indicated to the Governor that they would accept the appointments and take over control of the Kansas City election machinery, if a man of the type and public standing of Mehornay was selected as the fourth member and as chairman. No individuals were discussed for the appointment, it was said.

Will Support Clean-up. It also is known that the Governor gave the prospective board members assurance of his support in cleaning up election conditions in Kansas City and bringing about honest elections. A Federal investigation of frauds in the 1936 election in Kansas City has resulted so far in indictment of about 180 minor election officials and henchmen of the Kansas City political machine. More indictments—which may reach higher in the political organization—are expected. The Governor also is not unmindful, it is understood, that his stand on the Election Board appointments involved a break with the powerful Pendergast Democratic machine, which supported him in the 1936 primary campaign for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, and that this break may have a bearing on his future political fortunes. But he has declared he wanted a "courageous" Election Board in Kansas City, which would assure "honest elections" there.

ASSERTS RISING COSTS PINCH NEWSPAPERS

W. G. Chandler Predicts Many
May Have to Increase Circulation Rate.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Prediction that many newspapers may be forced to increase their circulation rates because of the fast rising cost of newsprint and other items of production, was made today by W. G. Chandler, chairman of the newspaper publishers' association.

Chandler had previously asked publishers to protest to newsprint manufacturers against the threatened price increases for 1938.

Newspapers in more than 50 American cities had been forced to increase their rates recently because of increased costs, he said.

Costs of newspaper publishing, according to statistics tabulated, have been advancing recently far out of proportion to increased receipts from advertising and circulation.

Payrolls, it was stated, had jumped ahead of even the 1929 level, both through wage increase to editorial, clerical and mechanical employees, and from additional employee taken on, while receipts generally were still well below the 1929 total.

General Advance.

Every commodity going into manufacturing a newspaper, with one or two minor exceptions, has advanced in price over the previous year, according to A. N. P. A. statistics. Publishers are paying more for metal, fuel, services, newsprint, and all the requisites to producing a well-printed, interesting newspaper, promptly delivered to a wide coverage.

On one group of newspapers, payrolls in nine months this year increased nine per cent, according to statistics reported, over the already sharp increases of 1936. Taxes, especially for social security, are cutting into receipts, the reports indicate.

The largest item of cost in producing a newspaper, next to payrolls, is newsprint paper, Chandler says. Newspapers have not only been paying an increased price for this product this year, except a few having long term contracts at lower than current rates, but in 1938 they will generally face an even greater advance, up to 17 per cent in most cases.

$25,000,000 More for Paper.

Even at the $49 average price for 1938, announced by the Great Northern Paper Co., which may govern the price of other mills, American publishers next year will be obliged to pay $25,000,000 more for paper than in 1937.

In an effort to make outgoing dollars match incoming revenue, many publishers are faced with the problem of cutting down the total amount of newspaper given the reader, or increasing the retail sales price.

"Most publishers," Chandler said, "believe that their readers prefer the newspaper of today, which gives the greatest amount of informational, educational and entertainment value in the history of newspaper publishing." Where Papers Have Raised Price. At one time most big city newspapers sold for 1 cent a copy. That was when most big city newspapers contained, six, eight and ten pages.

At 2, and, in many cases 3 cents, he said, the amount paid by the reader does not reimburse the publication for white paper in 20, 30 and 40 page newspapers, not considering the news-gathering, manufacturing and distribution costs.

For this reason newspapers in many cities recently have had to increase circulation rates, in some cases up to 5 cents a copy, and in more cases to increase subscription rates.

Among the more than 50 cities where rates have been recently increased are San Francisco, Houston, Tex., Fort Worth, Tex., Oklahoma City, Ok., Tulsa, Ok., Milwaukee, Wis., Hartford, Conn., Seattle, Wash., Portland, Ore., San Diego, Cal., Oakland, Cal., Boston, Sacramento, Cal., Philadelphia, Camden, N. J., Harrisburg, Pa., and San Antonio, Tex.

The reports generally indicate that circulation has not been greatly affected by the increases in the price of the paper.

Heads Greater St. Louis Lions. William C. Best, district manager at Overland for the Bell Telephone Co., was installed as president of the Greater St. Louis Council of Lions Clubs last night at a dinner at Norwood Hills Country Club. He succeeds Edward Murphy of the Carondelet Lions Club. Other officers installed were John Menges and Ralph C. Schwenck, vice-president, and William C. Rosenbaum, secretary and treasurer.

SIX MONTHS' "HANDLE" AT CHICAGO RACE TRACKS $37,000,000

HAWTHORNE IS ON TOP WITH DAILY AVERAGE OF $315,750

Aggregate for Six Tracks Runs $5,000,000 Over Last Year's Total—Season Ends Tomorrow.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—The best racing season Chicago has had in four years will end Saturday at Sportsman's Park.

Figures indicate that when the last race at the half-mile track gets under way, more than $37,000,000 will have been wagered during the six-month season, a "handle" of more than $5,000,000 above that of 1936. In 1934 the wagering totaled only $26,000,000 and in 1935 it totaled about $30,000,000.

Each of the six tracks which operated handled more money in the mutuels this season than last except Washington Park.

The comparative figures on daily averages:

Aurora	$101,000	$94,501
Washington Park	$227,000	$234,601
Arlington Park	$115,000	$117,754
Lincoln Fields	$111,000	$106,900
Hawthorne	$315,750	$311,800
Sportsman's Pk. (est.)	$215,000	$174,000

Favorites Deliver.

It isn't often the favorite sweeps through the feature races as they did at the major tracks yesterday. Not content with scoring in the major events at Empire City, Rockingham Park, Churchill Downs and Laurel, they accounted for five of the seven events at the latter and tied for another.

Mrs. Frank Hastings' Sandstone came through at Empire City to pay 6 to 5. The Southland Stable's Real Play registered at Churchill Downs for her fourth victory in five starts and returned $3.40 for a $2 win mutuel. The Milldale Stable's Golden Era, held at $3.80 for $2, was one of the choices that counted at Laurel while Mrs. K. Melanson's Happy Knott won at Rockingham and paid a $5.20 mutuel.

MISSOURI DUCK HUNTING SEASON BEGINS MONDAY

By the Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 29.—Missouri duck hunters have only two more days to wait. The State waterfowl season opens next Monday, Nov. 1, and closes Nov. 30.

Sportsmen in states to the north and west—Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma—have been pursuing the elusive duck and geese for almost three weeks. The season in those states closes Nov. 7. This is expected to work to the advantage of Missouri hunters, since the flights will be unimpeded until they reach the State during the 28 days of the season here.

Illinois and Kentucky have seasons coinciding with Missouri's. Legal shooting will not begin in Arkansas and Tennessee until Nov. 27.

Will Enforce Laws.
State and Federal game wardens are again preparing to enforce the strict regulations to check over-shooting.

Harry Barmer, St. Louis, United States game investigator for Missouri, said special attention would be paid to the ruling against baiting of areas. He pointed out that such baiting, even though carried out before the season, was a violation of the regulations.

The daily bag and possession limit for ducks remains at 10. For geese and brant, however, it has been raised from four to five, and for coot, from 15 to 25.

Use of live decoys and hunting from power or sail boats again banned. The hunter must use a shotgun fired from the shoulder and not larger than 10 gauge, with a limit of three shells. He must not begin firing before 7 a. m. and must quit at 4 p. m.

There is no open season on canvasback, redhead, wood, ruddy and buffhead ducks, and Ross' geese and swan.

Must Purchase Stamps.
All waterfowl hunters are required to buy Federal migratory bird hunting stamps. They may be obtained at postoffices for $1. This stamp is in addition to the State hunting license, which costs residents $2.50 and non-residents $10.

Missouri hunters will again have the advantage of a reciprocal agreement with Illinois under which they may shoot on any island or sandbar in the Mississippi River.

A list of outstanding duck-hunting points in Missouri compiled by the State Conservation Commission includes: The entire Lake of the Ozarks region in Miller, Camden, Morgan and Benton counties; St. Charles, Orchard Farm, Portage des Sioux and West Alton in St. Charles County; Point Rest in Perry County; Bird's Point in Mississippi County; Dexter in Stoddard County; Campbell in Dunklin County; Hayti in Pemiscot County; Scobee Lake in Adair County; Gallatin in Daviess County; Chillicothe in Livingston County; Hannibal in Ralls County; Louisiana and Clarksville in Pike County; Elsberry and King's Lake in Lincoln County; Corning, Forest City, Forbes and Big Lake in Holt County.

Farley, East Leavenworth, Bean Lake, Bear Lake and Horseshoe Lake in Platte County; Sugar Lake in Buchanan County; Brunswick and Dean Lake in Chariton County; Lake Taneycomo in Taney County; Sunshine Lake in Ray County; Grand Pass, White's Island and Wellington, Lafayette County.

Cold Sweat is a Drag!

The next cold morning you start your motor, hot vapors will strike cold metal. Condensation will take place. You will see clouds of steam and drops of water pour out of the exhaust. That's "Cold Sweat"! You only see it... but your motor feels it. Inside your motor, this water, unless checked, rusts and corrodes valves and other vital parts.

KEEP FREE from Rust and Corrosion caused by "COLD SWEAT". Use this new Fast-Starting Gasoline

EVERY time you start your cold engine, "Cold Sweat" steals a ride. In the form of water, it hides between valves and valve seats, between pistons and cylinder walls... ready to pull down power and mileage with its costly trail of rust and corrosion.

Stop "Cold Sweat" drag. Stop it all winter long with Tydol... the lubricating gasoline. Every gallon contains a top-cylinder oil that constantly lubricates... and protects... that constantly waterproofs all upper motor parts. They shed water like a duck's back.

But that's not all. Tydol can and does start hard-to-start cars in a split-second. That, too, is worth getting. Try a tankful of Tydol... today!

GOODNESS! THIS BEER ISN'T JUST FOR MEN-FOLKS

I wish I'd tried Griesedieck Bros. Beer sooner. Its flavor certainly suits my taste to a "T." I like its mellow smoothness and the tangy tingle in every sip. They tell me it's made from only the finest malt, rice, and hops. So I know it's wholesome. And oh, so cooling and refreshing these hot days!

Griesedieck Bros. Beer is a balanced beer brewed to please all kinds of tastes. It's mild but zestful. Open a bottle and fill up a glass. Watch the sparkling bubbles dance to the top and lose themselves in the generous head of thick creamy foam. Now taste it! Ready for another?

Talks at Party Meeting in Springfield, Mo.

ASSAULTS RULE
BY PENDERGAST

Session to Draft Platform on Which to Seek Support in Campaign Next Year.

By CURTIS A. BETTS,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Oct. 29.—An appeal to independent voters in the State to join with the Republicans in the initiative of legislation to wrest governmental power in Missouri from "boss control" and from "public utility and corporation-controlled State Senate," was made today by Arthur M. Curtis, Republican National Committeeman from Missouri, at a State gathering of Republicans here.

Republican leaders, party workers and rank and file to the number of several thousand met here, on call of the Republican State Committee, to work out a declaration of principles on which to seek support in the campaign next year.

This declaration will be in the form of resolutions to be adopted later today.

Curtis, who was the principal speaker at the afternoon session, said that, through inertia, the citizens of Missouri had permitted four sections of the State Constitution guaranteeing control of the State government by the people through free elections to be forgotten, and that as a result a democracy no longer existed in the State, the power of the Government having been taken over by a political boss, Tom Pendergast of Kansas City.

"We have a political machine in this State which has become the latest synonym for crookedness and dishonesty in elections," Curtis said. "It has so entrenched itself as to be supreme in all matters to which it devotes attention. It has subverted the primaries of a great political party and has brought about a condition whereby no ambitious Democrat, notwithstanding his party service record or ability, can hope to succeed unless he has first bent knee to the boss. By patronage and otherwise, it has slipped its slimy hands into the sacred funds taken from the people to provide food and clothing for the starving."

"By an organized system of election bribery, force and intimidation, it is able to produce enough votes in Kansas City to overcome opposition throughout all rural Missouri and the City of St. Louis. Instances are abundant where proposals or candidates may secure approval of 75 to 90 per cent of the counties and the City of St. Louis and yet be mowed down by stolen votes garnered by this octopus."

Curtis reviewed the evidence of fraud in the recent prosecution of election officials in Kansas City, declaring that "Missourians no longer own their own government."

Denouncing Legislature.

Asserting that banishment of the machine is the test of survival of democracy in the State, Curtis appealed to voters to forget party lines and act to demolish its power. Expressing gratification at the Kansas City Election Board appointments by Gov. Stark, Curtis said that neither the Governor, his Election Board or the United States District Attorney could destroy the machine unless the voters of the State united behind them.

Going into a discussion of the legislative situation, he said that unless the constitutional provisions governing the fixing of senatorial districts were observed, there seemed no other way to obtain constitutional representation than to abolish the State Senate.

He did not commit himself for the institution of a unicameral Legislature, but he presented that as a possible solution.

He said that, by violation of the Constitution, the State had been so perverted that there had been built up an oligarchy in the Senate that is not only unresponsive to the popular will, but is actually dominated and controlled by a small group of Senators who are so affiliated directly and indirectly with great corporations and public utilities as to give the latter actual control of that branch of the Government.

Growing Cost of Government.

Tracing the growth of boss control of the State, Curtis cited figures to show that it had been coincident with biennial leaps in the cost of government, and asserted that "boss rule always means an increase in the cost of government."

Book Names 60 Families That "Dominate U. S."

Writer, in 500 Pages, Discusses "Shadowy Government of Money in a Dollar Democracy."

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—In a 500-page book entitled "America's 60 Families," published today by the Vanguard Press, Ferdinand Lundberg, former Wall Street financial writer, asserts that "the United States is owned and dominated today by a hierarchy of its 60 richest families, buttressed by no more than 90 families of less wealth."

"These families," Lundberg continues, "are the living center of the modern industrial oligarchy, which dominates the United States, functioning discreetly under a de jure democratic form of government, absolutist and plutocratic in its lineaments, had gradually taken form since the Civil War."

"This de facto government is actually the government of the United States—informal, invisible, shadowy. It is the government of money in a dollar democracy."

Lists 12 Families.

Among the leading families in Lundberg's list, in order, are: Rockefeller, Morgan, Ford, Harkness, Mellon, Vanderbilt, Whitney, du Pont, McCormick, Baker, Fisher and Guggenheim.

"Outside this plutocratic circle (of 60 and 90 families)," he writes, "there are perhaps 350 other families, less defined in development and wealth, but accounting for most of the incomes of $100,000 or more that do not accrue to members of the inner circle."

Lundberg wrote "Imperial Hearst," a biography of William Randolph Hearst, last year.

The first 10 families in his table of 60, ranked in general on the basis of their 1924 income tax, with the number of family members filing returns, their "primary source of wealth" and "net aggregate fortune taxed," are:

Rockefeller (21); Standard Oil,

$359,100,000.
Morgan inner group (34); J. P. Morgan & Co.; $276,000,000.
Ford (2); Ford Motor Co.; $220,000,000.
Harkness (5); Standard Oil; $150,200,000.
Mellon (3); Aluminum company; $150,000,000.
Vanderbilt (22); New York Central Railroad; $120,100,000.
Winey (4); Standard Oil; $107,500,000.
Standard Oil group (28), including Archibald, Rogers, Bedford, Cutler, Flagler, Pratt and Benjamin; Standard Oil; $118,700,000.
Du Pont (20); E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co.; $78,500,000.
McCormick (3); International Harvester and Chicago Tribune; $70,400,000.

Others Making Up the 60.
Other families listed, in order, after Guggenheim, are Field (Marshall Field), Curtis-Bok (Curtis Publishing Co.), Duke (American Tobacco), Berwind (coal), Lehman (Lehman Brothers), Widener (Tobacco and utilities), Reynolds (Tobacco), and Astor (real estate).

The last 21 names of the 60 are individuals paying family taxes, starting with Thomas Fortune Ryan at $38,000,000, and including Ogden L. Mills, Julius Rosenwald, Bernard Baruch and S. S. Kresge, No. 60, at $10,000,000.

Lundberg points out that exact ranking and estimate are difficult because of the many large fortunes in tax-exempt securities, like those of the late Senator James Couzens of Michigan and Col. Henry Doherty, who he said paid no tax in 1924.

Also omitted were "individual fortunes not placed on a family basis" like those of the late George Eastman, Andrew Carnegie, Harry Sinclair, E. L. Cord, Walter P. Chrysler, Edward L. Doheny and Samuel Zemurray.

3 IDEAS AGREED ON BY FARM COMMITTEE

However, House Group Is at Odds on Whether Plan Should Be Voluntary.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Chairman Jones (Dem.), Texas, said today the House Agriculture Committee had reached a "general accord" on three major features of a farm control bill. It was generally understood, he told reporters, that:

The present soil conservation program be continued, an "ever-normal" granary can be established for those crops to which it is most adaptable, and any benefits paid farmers be on a basis of tilled acreage rather than production.

The chairman added that the committee was making "progress on getting together," but that it had not reached agreement on any specific legislative language. He said members would meet again Monday, when drafts of some of the general provisions might be ready for consideration. The question of marketing quotas, penalties and processing taxes has not yet been covered, he added.

Chairman Fulmer (Dem.), South Carolina, of a subcommittee in charge of formulating provisions for cotton, told reporters that he would recommend that cotton farmers be given soil conservation benefits, a subsidy of three cents a pound, and perhaps additional benefits to be paid from proceeds of a small processing tax.

Compulsory or Voluntary.

Members disagreed, however, over making the proposed crop control program compulsory or voluntary.

They will not make a decision until subcommittees have drafted all other details of a bill for presentation to the special session of Congress.

Representative Coffee (Dem.), Nebraska, was one of those expressing opposition to compulsory control.

"I don't believe in it, and I don't believe we are going to have it," he said.

He suggested a dual price system that "would assure the farmer a fair price on the domestic markets and allow him to compete in the world markets with surpluses."

Cummings (Dem.), Colorado, said control would be necessary "if we are going to guarantee to make agriculture profitable. We just can't throw the gates wide open without having control over production."

Flanagan (Dem.), Virginia, declared he favored production control or market control.

View of Wallace.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace has said definite control over surplus crops is essential to success of the proposed ever-normal granary program.

"If we have high loans (on stored crops)," he said, "then there is no question that strong control is absolutely necessary. Otherwise the Government would let itself in for a tremendous loss."

The bumper cotton crop this year and large crops of corn and wheat have demonstrated the lack of this control in the present soil conservation program, agriculture officials said.

Wallace said the public, farmers and Congress must choose between voluntary and compulsory controls. The voluntary system, he said, might continue benefit payments to farmers who comply with Federal regulation. Compulsory control, he said, could be obtained if it was favored by a majority—probably two-thirds—of the farmers raising the product involved.

Wallace said compulsory control would require less Federal expenditure than voluntary action. Authorities agreed, however, that either method would cost more than the present soil conservation payments.

Corn Loan Financing.

Preparations are going forward for financing a corn loan program. Informed persons said a tentative draft was worked out yesterday by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, Chairman Jesse H. Jones of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and Daniel W. Bell, acting budget director.

The cost has been estimated up to $200,000,000 for the first year. The loans probably will require compliance by farmers with the crop control program.

Spokesmen for the Agricultural Adjustment Administration estimated that 4,000,000 farmers will share in the $500,000,000 in benefit payments under the 1937 soil conservation program, about as many as were paid $400,000,000 in 1936.

They said fewer cotton farmers joined the Government program this year, but that this decline and other possible declines in wheat and corn farmers were offset by increased participation of fruit and vegetable farmers and range land operators.

A A A officials said the total number of farmers eligible to participate was estimated at 6,000,000 to 7,000,000.

A rough estimate indicated 66 per cent of all cotton land co-operated in the benefit program this year compared with 72 per cent in 1936. Officials said about 900,000 of 2,000,000 cotton farmers had joined in some Federal program. They said many of those not co-operating operated tiny tracts outside the low limits of the programs.

Officials estimated about 58 per cent of all farms in the 10 corn belt states participated this year, or the same as in 1936.

Preliminary estimates are that 58 per cent of Missouri farmland participated this year, 55 last; that 40 per cent of Illinois farm land participated this year, 43 last.

BRITISH AIR FORCE IN EGYPT
HOLDS BIG SCALE MANEUVERS

Tons of High Explosives Dropped on Desert in Mock Raid Near Cairo.

By the Associated Press.

CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 29.—The British air force tested its Egyptian defenses today in large-scale desert maneuvers 30 miles from Cairo.

Tons of high explosives were dumped on "enemy" motor transports and troops (simulated by stacks of petrol cans). The "enemy" was assumed to have been wiped out by accurate bombing.

Some 500 British and Egyptian officers, including Sir George Weir, commander of British troops in Egypt, watched the demonstration. The mock raid was described as "normal practice." Egyptian military authorities have been paying close attention to their border defenses since Premier Mussolini sent troop reinforcements recently to his Libyan colony on the west.

ROME, Oct. 29.—Premier Mussolini awarded medals for valor posthumously today to 83 Italians killed in the Spanish civil war. Tablets bearing the names of the fallen were unveiled throughout the nation.

ARABS AND MOORS RIOT AGAINST FRENCH

4 Killed, 16 Wounded in Morocco and Algeria in Nationalist Clashes.

By the Associated Press.

RABAT, French Morocco, Oct. 29.—A detachment of French Foreign Legionnaires, encircled today by a mob of Arab Nationalists at Fez, threw hand grenades into their midst, wounding six.

It was reported the Arabs attempted to demonstrate against French rule in Morocco.

At Oudjda, in Algeria, French troops charged a crowd of demonstrators, wounding 10. Forty were arrested.

Fez was occupied by military authorities, and additional reinforcements were added to the already heavy guards at Casablanca, Port Yauyette and Marrakech in Morocco, and at Oudjda.

Authorities declared Diouri el Hadj, Nationalist chieftain accused of leading riots at Port Yauyette in which four Moors were killed, was supplied by funds by an "European totalitarian power," and that he had paid his followers eight francs (about 30 cents) each to participate in the riot. Sixty were arrested.

NOBEL PRIZE IN MEDICINE GOES TO HUNGARIAN DOCTOR

Dr. Albert Szent-Gyorgyi Honored for Discoveries on Vitamin C.

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 29.—Dr. Albert Szent-Gyorgyi, 44-year-old professor of medical chemistry in Szeged University, Hungary, was awarded the 1937 Nobel prize in physiology and medicine yesterday. The award was for discoveries of biological oxidation processes, especially regarding vitamin C and fumaric acid catalysis. He carried out much of his work at the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn.

His main achievement was the determination of the chemical nature of vitamin C, which he first produced in pure chemical form from cayenne pepper. The first samples were obtained from the adrenal cortex of animals, and at Rochester he obtained experimental supplies from the Chicago stockyards. Later, in Hungary, seeking a plant source, he found green peppers have four times the vitamin content of oranges and lemons and were much cheaper.

The chemical vitamin is a white, tasteless, crystalline powder. Each molecule contains six carbon, eight hydrogen and six oxygen atoms. Physicians say the average adult needs 10 to 20 milligrams daily to combat scurvy, hemorrhage, colds and to maintain the albumen content of the blood.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare; never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Program for the Republicans.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I DARE say your comments on Mr. Landon's and Mr. Hoover's speeches summarize largely the opinion of millions who either listened to the broadcasts or read the texts. Particularly and entirely am I in accord with your admonition to the Republican party.

The best hope for the triumph of constitutional government in the United States is a revitalized Republican party, with a workable solution for its many problems, and with a leadership which points the way out of the wilderness of debt, despair and destruction, to those millions of bewildered citizens who are dreading of "tomorrow."

Verily, if the "enemies of democracy" are to have an effective agency through which to register their distrust of, and growing disgust with, our present administration at Washington, that agency must be a reconstructed, liberalized, militant, ably led Republican party. It is the only standard around which liberty-loving Americans can rally with any hope of protection.

Ex-President Hoover has proposed the sanest and soundest course for the party to follow. His suggestion for a mid-term convention of Republican party, its declaration of principles, if successfully carried out, should not only prove of great benefit to the Republican party, but may mean the rescue of the nation from its trend toward a despotism. Criticism from such men as our friend, the senior Senator from Idaho, should be given little or no heed. His pitiful behavior in the Black confirmation in the closing days of the last Congress should certainly not convince one as to the soundness of his judgment. Indeed, Mr. Hoover's leadership in rebuilding the Republican party and steering it into abler hands may prove his greatest patriotic service.

JOSEPH A. C. THOMAS.
President, Negro Republican Citizens' League.

Suggestion for the A. M. A.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
Why does the press unnecessarily play up the chemical sulfanilamide, in the elixir which has recently caused several deaths?

Sugar is probably a constituent of the elixir. Why not a headline, "Elixir Containing Sugar Causes Death of 46?" If the diethylene glycol is responsible, as the American Medical Association says it is, why not let it take the rap, and stop the boycott of sulfanilamide, which the association says "is a useful drug?"

POISON MIXER.

Urges Consideration for Business.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT should be given credit where credit is due, but it is rather silly to expect the nation to believe that he is infallible. Since the beginning of his first term, he has maintained a sort of "follow me" attitude, as though he had everlasting prosperity in his pocket. If this "follow me" attitude has ever been of any value to the nation, that period has long since passed, and the time for co-operation with business leaders, as well as other leaders, in and out of politics, is here.

What the President so far has absolutely refused to recognize is that the 15,000,000 or 20,000,000 individuals who own and finance American business and industry are consumers and buyers, as well as stockholders. These millions are the greatest consumers, the greatest buyers and the greatest employers of labor in America. It is small wonder that confidence is impaired and that business is slowing down.

We all agree that the buying power of the farmer is important, and that labor should be well paid, but why destroy the millions who must supply the money to create new jobs for labor and a better domestic demand for farm products? It is time that capital, labor and government should join hands.

Another Weatherbird Collector.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I WAS pleased to learn, by seeing Mrs. Clara A. Seibert's letter in the Post-Dispatch, that someone else is a great lover of the Weatherbird.

I saved them from the beginning, but lost several hundred by fire. Then I started again, April 4, 1933, and stopped March 7, 1936. Sorry I can't give the first one (Feb. 1901) for Mrs. Seibert.

MRS. M. M. POLLACK.

Says Railroads Use Obsolete Methods.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
THE financial difficulties encountered by the railroads are caused partly by obsolete methods and by a faulty personnel.

The railroads control gigantic lobbies, use favoritism in advancement and operate a spoils system of management.

Let them open the doors of their offices to youth, destroy their ancient methods and compensate ability. It is not necessary to raise rates, but it is necessary to cut freight and passenger rates, thus enlarging the net income and pleasing shippers and travelers.

Let them study the methods of manufacturers of electrical appliances, and the soap, milk and tobacco companies.

AVERAGE CITIZEN.

NOTES ON THE DEWEY LAW.

In the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post, Forrest Davis describes the brilliant investigation and prosecution by which New York City's Thomas E. Dewey brought about the conviction of Charles (Lucky) Luciano, No. 1 racketeer, and his associates. It is almost impossible to estimate the power wielded by the mysterious Luciano from his suite at the Waldorf when Dewey first took up his trail. He is now in prison, serving from 30 to 50 years.

Mr. Davis' appraisal of the factors which made it possible for Dewey to make the case against the Luciano mob gives weight to the Dewey law, passed in 1936 at Gov. Lehman's request, which "enabled the prosecutor for the first time in New York to join the trial of a group of defendants charged with the same general offense."

Dewey was empowered by the statute (says Mr. Davis) to prosecute the 10 defendants who finally stood trial as one mob and to convict them not only for the specific offense charged, compulsory prostitution, but also for being jointly in a criminal enterprise. The law, which brings New York up to date in meeting high-powered mob crime, was modeled on a Federal statute in force for 70 years. Any state which hopes to smash its rackets needs such a law.

In Missouri, when a number of defendants are charged with the same offense, each may demand a separate trial. For example, a group that participates in a kidnapping must be tried individually, even though precisely the same evidence is involved in each case and though the piecemeal prosecution often makes it difficult for a jury to get a complete picture of the crime. On this and other grounds, the right to separate trial is highly valued by criminals and their defenders as helpful in "beating raps."

In the Kelley kidnapping case, the defendants took advantage of this device, immensely complicating the job of the prosecution, whereas across the river, in Alton, under the Illinois conspiracy statute, similar to the Dewey law, all the defendants in the Luer kidnapping case were tried together and convicted. The State was saved the expense of multiple trials, witnesses were not required to go through the onerous job of telling their stories over and over, and, what is more important, the opportunities for perjury and other skulduggery were reduced to a minimum.

In the Kansas City vote fraud trials, the prosecution is using the Federal conspiracy statute with fine effectiveness. The prosecutor would get nowhere if each of the six officials in a polling place had to be tried separately. Certainly, when wholesale cheating occurs at a polling place, all the election officials must be parties to the crime.

Conversely, for lack of a State conspiracy statute, and even with the most diligent of prosecutors, it would take many years to try all those St. Louis election officials who have ruthlessly violated the election laws.

So that, for prosecution of various kinds of collusive crime, in addition to rackets, a conspiracy law is called for. It is one of the measures which the State Legislature has been asked to pass for the last 12 years. It is one of the measures that have been repeatedly knifed by the lawyer clique in the Legislature, who do not wish to forego any advantage our antiquated criminal code gives to their criminal clients.

POLITICAL STRAW.

The political prognosticators are constantly putting all manner of statements and events under their microscopes, to search out clues as to popular trends and the public temper. They doubtless will not pass up this item: the burst of applause that interrupted Mr. Hoover's address before the Republican Club of Massachusetts when he said: "Let me repeat once again that I do not want any public office."

Here's hoping the Duke enjoys his American visit, yes, and the Duchess, too, even if it means war with England.

THEY NEEDED THE MONEY.

We are all learning things about holding-company control of a railroad as the Senate committee proceeds with its investigation of the luckless Missouri Pacific.

One fact shrieks to the skies. The Van Sweringens were always needing money. They needed money so badly that they had their accountant falsify the books. They needed money so badly that they unloaded properties on the Missouri Pacific at an inflated price. They needed money so badly that they told the operating head of the Missouri Pacific system, L. W. Baldwin, to produce, and Baldwin did produce. He has related the circumstances to the Senate committee.

It happened in the bleak year of 1931. Baldwin had to put the pressure on the subsidiaries. He issued instructions to cut maintenance and betterment expenditures to the bone. Along with that retrenchment went drastic reductions in personnel and wages. As a result, the Missouri Pacific was able to pay dividends to the Alleghany Corporation of $1,100,000.

Was maintenance so starved, were betterments so postponed as to make travel unsafe? That is what happened in the classic scandal of the Erie, and it has happened since. In fairness to the Van Sweringens, nothing yet has developed to bracket them with transportation desperadoes like Daniel Drew, Jay Gould and Jim Fiske. But in order to produce dividends and provide the Van Sweringens with money, men were thrown out of employment and wages were slashed and the depression grew blacker and blacker.

The legacy of the Van Sweringens is this: Deliver the railroads from holding companies.

Mrs. Roosevelt says she never heard the President say anything about a third term. But if the charming lady would just stop talking for a minute—

MYRON TAYLOR'S RETIREMENT.

Myron C. Taylor carries with him, as he retires as chairman of the board of the United States Steel Corporation, the good wishes which the public accords to a forward-looking and far-seeing industrialist. His administration of this corporate giant has been sound and progressive, both as to business policies and labor relations.

Under his leadership, United States Steel made genuine progress in discarding the lethargic operating policies which had caused it to lose ground to its smaller and more facile competitors. It was through his influence that United States Steel adopted the point of view of scientific studies of the labor problem and made peace with the C. I. O.

E. R. Stettinius Jr., who succeeds Mr. Taylor, is a former St. Louisian reputed to possess the same broad outlook. Whether he will be given the same range in determining policies as Mr. Taylor enjoyed remains to be seen, but there is reason for gratification in the fact the nation's largest heavy-industry corporation is to be headed by a man of his type.

JUSTICE A LA HOLLYWOOD.

When Laverne Moore, alias John Montague, was turned loose by a jury at Elizabethtown, N. Y., he was swept to the shoulders of his admirers and carried from the courtroom with the cheers of the delighted crowd ringing in his ears. The rap Moore beat was a particularly nasty tavern robbery in which an old man was brutally slugged.

At Shelbyville, Ky., when Roy Garr was freed of murdering Gen. Denhardt, "the countryside," to quote an account in the Chicago Daily News, "was dizzy with joyous celebration. The populace was outspoken and almost hysterical that Kentucky justice once more had triumphed."

The judge at New Brunswick, N. J., was stern in charging the jury which sat on the case of Margaret Drennan, a girl who extended her favors to Paul Reeves, a married man, and then killed him. But the jury, after short deliberation, acquitted her. "Cheers broke out in the tense courtroom," reads the news report.

Elizabethtown, N. Y., Shelbyville, Ky., and New Brunswick, N. J. The Hollywood atmosphere in halls of justice is apparently not an isolated phenomenon. The grim business of prosecuting people for serious crimes, when the defendants have Montague's tinsel celebrity, Margaret Drennan's beauty and schoolgirl get-up or some other quality appealing to the crowd, has become a sort of spectacle, with the state playing the role of villain and the defendant that of persecuted innocence.

Is not this cheering of acquittals symptomatic of a distorted sense of values? Is it not going to have serious results on impressionable young minds? If crime, or accusation of crime, results in building up defendants as glamorous and dramatic figures who triumph in the end, then the slender restraints in many weak minds against criminal conduct are in danger of breaking.

THE C. I. O. HITS AT A MINOR RACKET.

The St. Louis Council of the C. I. O. is to be commended for its prompt and forthright disavowal of the scheme of one of its barber-union members to get out a "Greater St. Louis C. I. O. Directory" for profit through the sale of advertising. Not only did the local C. I. O. leadership issue a public warning that the venture was not authorized, but it directed the promoter to return $648.50 which he had collected from some 70 business men. At the same time, the union notified the Better Business Bureau that the union was in no way connected with the venture, such schemes being officially disapproved for the reason that they were akin to asking "alms and favors." Promotional affairs of this sort are minor rackets and the C. I. O. is wise in denouncing them.

CAN THE POOR EAT STATISTICS?

Statistical experts, we concede, are probably very useful to municipal government, but why does St. Louis suddenly need one right now? The Board of Estimate and Apportionment has approved a bill to add such an official to the Mayor's office, and it will be submitted to the Board of Aldermen today.

The purpose, it is explained, is "to keep the Mayor advised on city finances by correlating reports from the offices of the Comptroller and city department heads." Well, the city is broke, and a deficit of more than $2,000,000 is predicted for the current year. That situation shouldn't offer a very difficult job of correlation. Creation of the new city job just now looks much like the gesture of a down-and-outer who spends his last dollar on a large and showy billboard.

Not that the city administration doesn't get plenty of statistics as it is now organized. Comptroller Louis Nolte has been serving them up in large and juicy batches for more than 20 years. He's pretty good as a correlator, too. As a result of his mathematical endeavors, the city's credit survived the trying depression days. The voters appreciate his efficiency and have kept re-electing him, though they installed Democrats in every other city office.

The city faces a relief crisis just now, and will need every possible dime to get its destitute sufferers through the winter. That $4000 will buy many loaves of bread and quite a few bottles of milk. Is it somebody's bright idea to feed the poor on statistics and correlations? The current statistics are the best reason why the Board of Aldermen should pass up the temptation to hire a statistician.

MR. COCHRAN TO THE BREWERS.

Representative Cochran of St. Louis gave the brewers of the country some sound advice in his appearance before them at Pittsburgh. In a speech that fairly bristled with telling figures, he showed them how it was to their advantage from the standpoint of profits, if for no other reason, to enforce strict law observance in the business of selling beer. Disreputable and offensive saloons, he pointed out, play into the hands of those who work for prohibition.

Mr. Cochran was a leader in Congress in the fight for repeal. He has long been known as a level-headed legislator who has steered clear of alarmist scares. When he says that another fight over prohibition impends, he issues a warning worth heeding. The brewing industry will benefit both itself and the country if it gives this friendly critic's message the attention and thought it deserves.

LAST CHANCE FOR TAX BARGAINS.

Today and tomorrow are the last days on which Missourians who owe delinquent taxes can pay them with a remission of half the accrued penalties. Beginning next Monday, only 25 per cent of the penalties will be waived.

The chance for a substantial saving is plain, so it is surprising that so few St. Louis tax debtors have taken advantage of the bargain offer. Up to last Tuesday, only $257,940 had been received by Collector Baumann since Sept. 1, when the discount dropped from 75 to 50 per cent—and $10,387,560 in delinquent taxes is still outstanding.

The persons who owe these taxes will probably never again have an opportunity to wipe the slate clean at such a saving. It would have been better business to pay in June, when penalties were waived in full, but saving half is better than saving 25 per cent or saving nothing.

Mr. Hoover showed he was no stranger to the language of diplomacy when he spoke of Governor Landon's speech as "a notable contribution."

VIRTUE GOES TO ITS REWARD.

James Roosevelt's New Job

As co-ordinator of 18 executive bureaus, son of President will have an important but difficult role, says writer; has won friendship of newspaper men, but fact that appointment results from hereditary considerations is a handicap, as is also his reputed political ambition; will have unusual opportunity to influence policies.

Arthur Krock, Washington Correspondent, in the New York Times.

PUBLICATION of the official order that henceforth the 18 largest independent and emergency Government agencies shall take their problems to James Roosevelt instead of directly to the President makes generally the President sees in him, and if he gets action where now is delay. James Roosevelt will be voted a success at his heavy task. The public, with its natural doubt of a father's preference for a son over the sons of those without the same congenital advantage, will be slower of conviction.

And James, for a while, will probably have to smile through a pricking rain of satirical jests and showers of brickbats from those in the press and outside it who prefer fewer rather than more Roosevelts in the Government.

In making his public impression, however, James Roosevelt has enlisted one powerful group of supporters, and he has done it sincerely and naturally. These are the Washington newspaper men. Recently he has acted as White House press officer when the regular functionary was elsewhere or engaged in something else.

It is a statement of fact that he has pleased the reporters in this office as none has done for a long time. He is candid, apparently trusting, and he gets answers to questions quickly or says there will be none. If he says that, none suddenly and later appears, as has often been the case before.

So the probability is that James Roosevelt will perform his important new duties very well and finally begin to get some public acclaim for it. And these duties, as has been said, are of such consequence to the nation that a discussion of him and them at this length is not disproportionate to the case.

Above all, he will be an information-bringer to the President. In 1914, a wise man said of Col. E. M. House, who was fact-Ganymede to Woodrow Wilson: "What difference does it make whether he advises the President, or whether the President takes his advice if he offers any? Give me the chance to say to the President, 'This is a fact' about this man or thing, and I will be much more important than a hundred advisers."

Openly, then, James Roosevelt is to be more significant and effective in the Federal Government than most of its elected officials and many of its appointed Judges. The physical burden upon him has been great, and will be greater.

It is no tame troupe of which James Roosevelt is to act as ringmaster. Some of them are small fry whose mouths most readily frame the affirmative monosyllable. But among them are distinguished men of affairs with wills of their own and the ability to know when a confere measures up to his task. They must feel that the door to the President's office remains open to them when they feel it necessary to see him, or they won't pay.

Times will come when James Roosevelt will wish he had been trained by Clyde Beatty and Hagenback's. But his is the most brilliant opportunity that has come to a young man in recent years.

Paying for Slums

From the Atlanta Constitution.

DECLARING that cities are now, and always have been, subsidizing their slum areas, whether or not they have realized it, the National Housing Committee in a recent statement argues that this type of subsidy is a guarantee of continuance of these substandard areas as slums, instead of a provision for their removal.

The committee takes the position cities cannot afford, indefinitely, the cost of maintaining such sections. The taxpayers, it is pointed out, pay far more for the maintenance of slums than they would ever have to pay for their destruction and replacement with modern, up-to-date housing for the low-income groups.

Taking a slum area in Cleveland as an example, the committee appends some startling figures illustrative of the cost of a slum to the city as a whole.

The area represents .73 per cent of the land area of Cleveland, but 24 per cent of its population. The report shows that, during the past 12 years, 21 per cent of the murders perpetrated in Cleveland were committed by people of this section; 28 per cent of the city's houses of prostitution are in the area; 7 per cent of delinquency comes from this small section and 13 per cent of the deaths by tuberculosis occurred there.

Public expenditure on behalf of the area, including city, county and Board of Education, amounted in 1932 to $1,356,983, against a nominal tax income from the property in the area of $225,035. Added to this is $400,836 spent in the area by visiting nurses, day nurseries, associated charities and other private welfare agencies, leaving a net annual cost to the community of $1,522,783 for maintaining these slums. Then there is, also, an accrued tax delinquency for the district, which in 1932 amounted to $369,248, or 164 per cent of the total annual tax levy.

Other burdens on the taxpayers for this slum include 14.4 per cent of the total Cleveland spending for fire protection and 6.5 per cent of the amount for police protection.

These figures provide definite proof that, even discounting sympathy and sentiment, slums do not pay.

RESPECT FOR LAW PREVAILS.

From the Chicago Daily Tribune.

GOV. HORNER recently gave a little lesson in respect for law which, though it was probably not intended as a lesson, might well be taken to heart by a number of big officials in this country who have been refusing their personal convictions with their official duty to enforce the law as it is.

Petitioned to commute the sentence of death imposed on Peter Christouloos, Gov. Horner said: "Notwithstanding my views on the death penalty, I find nothing in the record in this case to justify an interference with the penalty imposed by the court."

In other words, Gov. Horner regards his oath of office as binding upon his conscience and his official conduct. This is a refreshing contrast to the conduct of the Governors of Michigan, Ohio and Pennsylvania, who, in pursuit of what they expected would be the favor of a majority, refused their duty and made themselves parties to lawless men.

Gov. Horner might have relied upon the approval of a certain opinion which is opposed to the death penalty. But he acknowledged his duty to enforce the laws.

Goering and the Prodigal Son

MODERN Germany has officially repudiated Judeo-Christianity, but it is difficult completely to purge the mind of habit of thought, and the Jewish-Christian Bible is still a part of German speech. So Four-Year Plan, a paper founded to promote Gen. Goering's ideas, made the statement this week that "the parable of the Prodigal Son" has become the faith of the German race in the twentieth century.

The statement was astonishing in context. It occurred in an article reviving the program recently launched upon an annoyed world at Stuttgart. According to this program, all Germans living abroad, and those who are not, are to be agents of the Nazi economic and cultural program.

"In the future," says the article, "fruitful relationships between Germany and other peoples can take place only on the basis of the organized activity of foreign Germans as natural agents of German culture and commerce."

The author raises the question: Upon which men of German blood can I lay claim, even if they are no longer conscious that they belong to us?

"National Socialism," says the article further, "radiates a magnetic fluid throughout the world. Race is drawn to race... folk to folk."

And with this magnetic fluid, the Third Reich proposes to enter into sharp competition with the Comintern as a disintegrator of outside societies, using men of German blood wherever they live, and whatever their citizenship, to serve the interests of the Nazi state.

That's a lot easier to say than to do, so we are not going to get into the details of the program. But the author's excitement. Recently I talked about the Stuttgart meeting in a radio broadcast, and got many unhappy letters from German-Americans, furious that the German Government should have put them in such an oblique light, pleading for confidence in their loyalty to the country of their adoption. Of that loyalty, the history of Germans in the United States is the best testimony.

It was only in the brief hysteria of war that we regarded every Reichsbund as a German agent, and the Nazi Government's announced intention to make the German delinquent dealer and the German industrial engineer abroad into active blood-and-soilers is likely to injure Germany more than us.

But Gen. Goering's official organ has put an ingenious and exclusive German interpretation upon the parable of the Prodigal Son. The Prodigal Son, you remember, left his father's house and went into a far country, where he wasted his substance in riotous living. Then he adopted country had a famine, and, finding himself with nothing to eat but corn husks, he came home, where his father received him with a welcoming party.

Written in Germany, the story now becomes as follows: A young man left his father's house and went into a far country, where, under the laws of that country, he established himself with wife and family, got himself a job or built himself a business, and since the country was not compelling him to stay there, he even for military service, he stayed because he wished to.

And now his father, being hard up for funds, and having got himself into a jam by offending his neighbors, sent out an emissary to his son, and said: "Son, the folks back home need you." Perhaps the son demurred that after all he

Well, that's where one version of the parable stops. But not the hope that it will still have the Biblical ending: of the chastened son, returning to a chastened family, who go out along the road to welcome him.

GOLDSCHMANN RETURNS FOR SYMPHONY SEASON

Conductor to Test Reactions of Audience in Building Orchestra Programs.

Vladimir Golschmann returned to St. Louis yesterday to begin his seventh season as regular conductor of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra. He was in a mood of enthusiasm, particularly praising the Schumann concerto which Yehudi Menuhin, violinist, will play with the orchestra here at its American premiere Dec. 23 and 26.

Golschmann saw the score of the concerto while abroad this summer. The piece has been in the Berlin State Library in Germany for many years because of a stipulation that it not be played until 100 years after the composer's death. Golschmann said he made only a brief inspection of the score, but declared it was a "most interesting work; a great work; characteristic of Schumann, who never wrote music that was not good."

The conductor and his wife returned to New York Oct. 21 from a vacation in Paris and motored to St. Louis. Most of his time abroad was spent working on the program for the symphony season here. He declined to disclose what this season's program novelties would be, preferring not to bind himself, so that he may test audience reactions in earlier concerts and build later programs around the indicated preferences. He announced he would present several Bach numbers with original orchestrations instead of transcriptions.

He was more enthusiastic about his engagement as guest conductor for 22 open-air concerts in Hollywood, Portland, Ore., Chicago, Philadelphia and New York early in the summer than about his trip to Europe.

The audiences, numbering up to 20,000 at these concerts, he stated, showed mass musical appreciation in America.

"Europe," he explained, "has nothing to compare with these summer concerts. The crowds were outside. They could smoke. They didn't have to dress up. We are not used to that level of musical culture in America. We take it as a matter of course that we are not up to the European standard. In many ways, however, Europe has reason to envy us. The development of symphony orchestras here and particularly what we do for children in high schools is amazing."

The Schumann concerto originally was scheduled to have its world premiere here Nov. 12 and 13 but the German Government insisted that the work be played first in Berlin. A rearrangement of the St. Louis dates was necessary.

The European press, Golschmann said, carried numerous stories on the controversy over the playing of the concerto and St. Louis received much publicity. Reports sought out Golschmann in Paris. The conductor, who still calls Paris his home, goes there annually for his vacation.

MRS. ALICE B. STIMSON DIES; WIDOW OF NEW YORK PREACHER

Former St. Louisian Directed New York Campaign for Establishment of Prison Parole Board. By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Mrs. Alice Bartlett Stimson, 83 years old, who as chairman of the Municipal League in 1915 directed a state-wide campaign to establish a prison parole board in New York, died Wednesday.

She was the widow of the Rev. Henry A. Stimson, founder of the Manhattan Congregational Church, and was descended from Josiah Bartlett, a signer of the Declaration of Independence.

Her husband, an uncle of former Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, preached in Minneapolis, Worcester, Mass., and St. Louis before he came to New York in 1898.

She is survived by six children, Maj. Julia Stimson, formerly a nurse in St. Louis and former superintendent of the Army Nurse Corps; Mrs. Elbert A. Harvey, Boston; Henry B. Stimson, Rye, N. Y.; Miss Dorothy Stimson, Ingram F. Boyd, 6465 Ellsworth avenue, was hostess. Guests, who included a group of this season's debutantes, were greeted informally in the lounge, before luncheon. They Invitations were received yesterday morning from Mrs. Emily Harms, Mrs. Edgar F. Peters and Mrs. Richard Walke, all of Warsaw road, to a luncheon Monday, Nov. 15, at the St. Louis Woman's Club in honor of one of the season's debutantes, Miss Alice Jane Meyer, daughter of Edwin R. Meyer, 6228 Forsythe boulevard. Another luncheon to be given in Miss Meyer's honor will also be at the Woman's Club. The hostesses, Mrs. George Engelmann Jr., 454 Anquelin lane, Webster Groves, and Mrs. Robert R. Stephens, 600 Polo drive, have planned the affair for Thanksgiving eve, Nov. 24.

Dr. and Mrs. Walter L. Wiedner, 628 South Meramec avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Johnson, 38 Portland place, is at her home at Holly Springs, Miss., and is expected back in St. Louis after the first of next month. Her son, Oscar Johnson, who spent this summer at Berkeley, Cal., also is expected home soon.

Dr. Alfred Lee Shapleigh, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Wessel Shapleigh, 23 Fordyce lane, has been elected captain of the Yale University Football cross-country team. Mr. Shapleigh is a graduate of St. Louis Country Day School.

Mrs. Edward N. Beach has returned to her apartment in the Embassy for the winter after a four-months' absence. For three months last summer she occupied her cottage in Charlevoix, Mich., where she entertained members of her family. Mrs. Nathaniel W. Ewing of the Park Plaza, and Mr. Ewing's daughter, Miss Marian, have arrived in Ceylon off the coast of India on a trip around the world for which they sailed early this fall. They will leave soon for Delhi and Bombay, and will be in Calcutta for Christmas. In India they will join Mr. Ewing's son, Nathaniel Jr., and A. B. Ewing III, who have been on a similar trip since last January.

Mrs. Ewing and Miss Marian sailed Oct. 20 for Port Said, and have recently visited Baghdad and Damascus. China and Japan, originally a part of their itinerary, have been of Sioux Falls, S. D., and the latter's baby, and her granddaughter, Mrs. Maxine Dieffenbach of Cincinnati, the former Miss Gladys Gray, were all with her for visits. For the last month Mrs. Beach has been in St. Paul with Mrs. Gray Jr., who was Miss Gladys Beach of St. Louis.

Dr. and Mrs. Paul J. Zentay, 4357 McPherson avenue, entertained at luncheon today at the Junior League Club rooms in honor of Fritz Werner, Viennese portrait painter, and Mrs. Werner. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Myrtle R. Rogers and Mrs. Asa B. Wallace. Mr. Werner's paintings have been on exhibition at the Junior League since Monday, and will be shown until Nov. 7.

Mrs. Charles N. Whitehead of the Park Plaza has gone to Dallas to visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hunsche and their 4-year-old daughter, Carol, who have been away from St. Louis a year and a half, will spend the winter in a mountain cabin in Estes Park, Colo. They spent several months in Arizona and New Mexico and went to Los Angeles and Hollywood for the summer. Next April they plan to return here. Before her marriage Mrs. Hunsche was Miss Louise Osterburg.

Miss Gertrude Muckerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Herman Muckerman, Geyer road was honored at luncheon yesterday in the Crystal Terrace of the Park Plaza. Hostesses were Mrs. Casper Hartenbach, Mrs. Henry C. Hartenbach Jr. and Mrs. Charles Hartenbach, all sisters-in-law of Marion Charles Hartenbach, whose marriage to Miss Muckerman will take place Saturday, Nov. 6. Twenty guests were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Cost, 5533 Cabanne avenue, are motoring through the East and Canada. They left St. Louis Monday for a 10-day trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Clark Ogden, formerly of 5575 Clemens avenue, have moved to Cape Girardeau, Mo., and are living at 207 Bellevue avenue. Mrs. Ogden was Miss Alice Garrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Garrison.

Mrs. Ernest Linwood Coffin will entertain 130 of her friends at tea from 4 to 6 o'clock this afternoon at her home, 147 North Hanley road. Roses and chrysanthemums emphasizing the autumn shades have been used to decorate the living room, where the hostess will stand, and at the tea table in the dining room. The following will serve Mrs. Coffin: Mrs. Dorothy Harry Moss, Mrs. Charles Miller, Mrs. Claude Pickrell, Mrs. Gerold Stryker, Mrs. Marion Webb, Mrs. Ernest Lehman, Mrs. Henry LaBarge, Mrs. William Meredith and Mrs. Coffin's young nieces, Miss Judith Itiner and Miss Betty Van Cleave.

Mrs. Coffin returned earlier in the fall from their cottage in Maine, after a month's summer tour of Europe with Dr. Coffin.

Miss Jane Waddock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Waddock, 415 Scott avenue, Kirkwood, will be among the guests at a Saturday morning breakfast to be given at Mills College, by Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, president of the college. Miss Waddock was graduated last June from Mary Institute.

Parties are being arranged for the concert to be given Wednesday night at the Municipal Auditorium by the Don Cosens Russian Male Chorus for the benefit of the Russian Refugee Children's Society. The 36 singers fought with the White Army through the Crimea, and at the death of their leader were imprisoned in a camp near Constantinople, where they were selected and trained by Serge Jaroff, one of their number, who still directs their concert work.

REVIVAL OF 'CIRCLE' AT LITTLE THEATER

Somerset Maugham Comedy, Not Very Strong of Itself, Is Staged Well.

By COLVIN McPHERSON

BRIGHT, smooth and sometimes very amusing performance of W. Somerset Maugham's comedy, "The Circle," started the Little Theater off on its eleventh season last night. The play will run through two weeks, except on Sundays.

In view of other shows to come, "The Circle" may well be the last of a terrific amount of time to tell what has happened before the curtain goes up and in setting the situation is hardly more than an ask-me-another game. Briefly, a generation ago, Lady Katherine Champion-Cheney has run away from her husband, Olive Champion-Cheney, to live in undivided and unmarried bliss with Lord Porteous.

Unmarried bliss with Lord Porteous, is about to run away from her son, Arnold, under virtually the same circumstances. Life moves in a circle, or something like that.

Everybody concerned is dragged to a house party to work the thing out and until they all arrive and get to influencing each other's lives, it's pretty artificial. The Little Theater's new director, Harold Bassage, probably found his greatest hazard in that volatile first act and the second remains.

Production value does carry the show along, permitting the audience to get acquainted with the redecoration of the auditorium, the new stage curtain and Gordon Carter's set, which is not only of professional grade but very good professional grade, indeed. And the members of the cast appear as attractive, twentieth century people.

Late in the first act, thanks to the flattery Lady Kitty, the comedy warms up and from there on, carries right through. Charley Grace, in red wig and with raised voice and kicking, plays Lady Kitty, and Elliot Berghoff, with white hair and walrus mustache is her ashes-of-love, Lord Porteous. The get-ups of these two familiar Little Theater players greatly pleased their friends out front and every bit of bickering on their part that the audience was gratefully received. They both do splendid jobs.

Margaret Mooney as Elizabeth and Eugene O'Neill as her temptation were unsure of themselves at first but entered into their emotional scenes later with proper balance. Leo Lederer as Lady Kitty's husband and Leonard Vlasov as Elizabeth's had the characteristics of father and son and a mutual conservatism. Minor roles go to Adelaide Tarrant Strong, Madeline Haertler and Alvin Queen.

The entire cast plainly has the advantage of careful guidance and after a terrific amount of time to tell what remains will be those of the play itself.

Welcome—Come thou with us

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Oct. 29. — The name, Simone Simon, is all right, but when they name her Yvette Yvette in a movie, that's too much. The French film star protested against the Yvette Yvette name that 20th Century-Fox had given her for "Love and Hises," pointing out that it poked fun at her real name. The studio substituted in the script the name Yvette Guerin. Later in the story, when she is being launched on a show career, Winchell changes it to Yvette Yvette, which is all right with Miss Simon.

Bronx Cheer for "Buccaneer."
HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Oct. 29. — It was a tense scene. Fredric March, as Jean Lafitte, was saluting Hugh Sothern, as Andrew Jackson, at a victory ball following the battle of New Orleans. Margot Grahame, featured with them in "The Buccaneer," stood by registering great agitation. An electrician, high above the set, twisted a giant lamp with a sound not unlike the famous Cecil B. de Mille, his eye glued to the camera finder, broke in upon the scene. "What are you doing?" he asked, turning to the head electrician, "concealing critics in the rafters?"

STUDIOS WORRYING ABOUT WEATHER AGAIN

Time of Year for Rain Causes All to Rush Outdoor Work.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Oct. 29. — As this is being written, the first rain clouds of the season are scudding across the sky here and "weather permitting" notations are a commonplace of the call sheets.

All horse operas extant in the hinterland are being rushed down the stretch against the possibility of bad weather, and the imminent likelihood of inclemency is being viewed with alarm in the citadels of the cinema.

It's true that, just as with the diligent postmen, "neither snow nor rain nor heat nor gloom of night" stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds, motion picture production proceeds on an inexorable schedule. Each major studio is committed to furnish its exhibitors with acceptable photoplays on an average of at least one a week—52 or more a year.

Storm Flies Out.
But the vagaries of weather can and do raise hob with the orderly procedure of the tedious task of filming, and that's why, while the clear weather that characterizes the Hollywood summer continues there's stress on all possible outdoor shooting, whether on studio backlots or on location. And it's why the typical studio in recent weeks has had the air of a three-ring circus with all sorts of temporary and tarpaulined structures rising in the midst of administration buildings, and with brave square-riggers at anchor in concrete tanks.

Of location trips to make hay while the sun shone there've been M-G-M's "Bad Man of Brimstone," with Wallace Beery, Virginia Bruce and a goodly company faring forth all the way to far Montana; Frank Lloyd's "Wells Fargo" Paramount troupe, headed by Joel McCrea, Bob Burns and Frances Dee, on the long trek to the Mother Lode gold diggings of '49, to re-enact that very scene; R-K-O's "Bringing Up Baby," the new Katharine Hepburn starrer, flitting about suburban golf courses; the Cecil B. de Mille filmization of nautical sequences for his story of practical Jean Lafitte, "The Buccaneer," to the offshore Catalina roadstead with a company headed by Fredric March, Franciska Gaal and Akim Tamiroff.

To Seek Shelter.
But, at the same time, Metro has had its lavish "Rosalie" sets basking in the sun, and the moonlight, for night shooting—and about the home studio; De Mille has had pirate mutineers strung up on a yardarm aboard a ship replica not 50 paces from the studio commissary; Mitchell Leisen's "Big Broadcast of 1938" company, of which W. C. Fields will be star and skipper, is preparing to shoot shipboard sequences about the port bow of the studio's main gate.

At least the foregoing is the way it's been all summer and until the present. Come the first precipitation, and it may have occurred ere you read this, and they'll all skitter indoors to the comfort and convenience of the pleasantly air-conditioned sound stages.

RAPIDS STILLED FOR MOVIE
New Trick Developed for Scene in "Robin Hood."

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Oct. 29. — Latest wrinkle in sound engineering was evolved by experts in charge of recording "The Adventures of Robin Hood." It is a "creek silence."

The location spot selected for one of the more important sequences of the story in which Robin Hood and Friar Tuck stage a broadsword duel in midstream, was in Chico Creek in Bidwell Park, Chico, Cal. It was an ideal spot so far as scenery was concerned, but the sound men wrinkled their brows at a noisy rapids just a few yards away. The situation, long trips of heavy sacking were weighted down and completely covered the 15 yards of rocks which caused the small series of rapids. The noise died down to a mere murmur.

Movie Time Table
AMASSADOR—Eddie Cantor in "Ali Baba Goes to Town," with Tony Martin, Roland Young and June Lang, at 10:30, 1:15, 3:35, 6:30 and 9:25; "Dangerously Yours," featuring Cesar Romero and Phyllis Brooks, at 11:52, 2:38, 5:20, 8:04 and 10:48.
FOX—Nino Martini in "Music for Madame," with Joan Fontaine and Alan Mowbray, at 11:40, 2:40, 5:45 and 9:05; "It Happened in Hollywood," starring Richard Dix with Fay Wray, at 12:55, 4:10 and 10:10; "The Girl Said No," with Robert Armstrong and Irene Hervey, at 11:48, 2:48, 5:48 and 8:48.
LOEWS—"Big City," starring Louise Rainer and Spencer Tracy, at 10:10, 1:10, 4:10, 7:10 and 10:10; "The Girl Said No," with Robert Armstrong and Irene Hervey, at 11:48, 2:48, 5:48 and 8:48.
MISSOURI—Irene Dunne and Cary Grant in "The Awful Truth," at 12:30, 3:35, 6:40 and 9:45; "Hideaway," with Fred Stone and Marjorie Lord, at 2:35, 5:40 and 8:45.

GILBERT AND SULLIVAN MUSIC GOES OVER ON THE SCREEN

Selections Sung Unusually Well in "The Girl Said No" at Loew's Theatre.

The novelty of Gilbert and Sullivan selections in "The Girl Said No" and the co-starring of Louise Rainer and Spencer Tracy in "Big City" won a strong attendance for the double bill on its opening day at Loew's yesterday and both films appeared to be pleasing to the customers.

The Gilbert and Sullivan music came through unusually well, even compared to other light operas on the screen and the recording is of unusual fidelity. Selections from "Ruddigore," "The Pirates of Penzance" and "Pinafore" are rendered in the course of the show by the Gilbert and Sullivan veterans, William Danforth, Frank Moulton, Vera Ross and Vivian Hart, all of local stage experience. The central theme of "The Girl Said No" is about a bookmaker, Robert Armstrong, who puts a dance hall girl, Irene Hervey, into a show in order to defraud her but finds that his revelation of "The Mikado," with the veterans, is a great success.

The Rainer-Tracy picture, built around a cab war and racketeering in New York, provides but slight opportunity for one of the finest acting teams on the current screen. A novelty to match that of Gilbert and Sullivan revival is the use of a dozen or so ex-sports champions, headed by Jack Dempsey and James J. Jeffries, to get rid of the racketeers.—C. Mc.

59 PAINTINGS CHOSEN FOR ST. LOUIS EXHIBIT

Showing at City Art Museum From Wednesday Until Nov. 30.

Fifty-nine paintings by 46 artists in the St. Louis area have been chosen out of 300 submitted for the St. Louis exhibition to be held at the City Art Museum in Forest Park from next Wednesday until Nov. 30.

Thirteen artists had two paintings accepted, none more. Those with two were:

Alice Bunch, with "Hillside Wheat" and "Creole Boy."
Estelle Ehrmann, with "Still Life" and "Yellow Apples."
E. V. Gauger, with "Osage River" and "The Landing."
Emille M. Gross, with "A Snow Scene from My Window" and "Snappers."
Picture of Depot.
Marty, with "Missouri R. R. Depot" and "Still Life."
Miriam McKinnie with "Salvage" and "Spring Showers."
E. B. Parks, with "Evening" and "Suzanne."
Eva Lucille Sokol with "Betty Rose" and "Country Hillside."
Rudolph Tandler, with "Village Blacksmith" and "The Beacon."
E. Oscar Thallinger, registrar at the museum, with "Meramec River" and "Country Store."
Joseph V. Vorst, with "Flood Tragedy" and "Missouri Mules."
Eloise Long Wells, with "Life on the Mississippi" and "Life on Old Man River."
M. E. Ziegler, with "Awaiting the North-Bound" and "Ginning Time in Southeast Missouri."

Other artists whose paintings were chosen, and the titles, were as follows:

Wallace Bassford, "Rocky Mountain National Park"; Helen Louise Beccard, "Coal Barge"; Bernice Boeschstein, "The Bemis Wells"; F. G. Carpenter, "The Presentation in the Temple"; Mike Chomyk, "Uncle Oscar"; Fred Conway, "Washing Seal Skins"; A. Corrubia, "House and Trees."
Vera Dvornikoff, "At the Window"; Mabel Meeker Edsall, "We Came, We Ploughed, We Departed"; Art Fitzsimmons, "Old Barn"; Charles F. Galt, "Tulips"; Simon Greco, "Self Portrait"; Elizabeth Greiderer, "Portrait"; Mary Hallett Gronemeyer, "Hillside Farm"; Ethel Groszkop, "Clay"; Werner Henze, "Off the Highway, New Mexico"; E. Knabb, "Second and Poplar Street"; F. Arthur Krause, "Boatman."
Scott MacNutt, "Anna"; Alvin Metelman, "Retired Farmer"; Richard Kurt Moll, "Self Portrait"; Peter Note, "American Girl"; Charles F. Quest, "Promenade"; Dorothy Quest, "The Mannequin"; F. Shearman Ray, "Refugee"; Esther Silber Reed, "Thatched and Old, But Home"; Jessie Beard Rickly, "Last of an Old House"; Almee Schweig, "Out of Work"; Winfield Stampfer, "Puma"; Marie Taylor, "Harvest Scene"; James B. Turnbull, "Chain Gang"; Don Williams, "Cotton Picker."

Some of those artists whose paintings were selected are of the group that boycotted last year's show because their demands for rental on the pictures were refused, and held their own showing downtown. The movement for rental at shows, a national one, has been abandoned.

Included in this group were Helen Louise Beccard, Alice Bunch, Galt, Gauger, Miriam McKinnie, Quest, Jessie Rickly, Almee Schweig, Turnbull, Vorst and Williams.

The paintings were picked yesterday by a jury consisting of Daniel C. Rich, associate curator of paintings, Art Institute of Chicago; Louis Ritman, an instructor at the same institute, and Wilbur D. Peat, director of the John Herron Art Institute, Indianapolis. As is customary, the judges were unaware of the identity of the painters. Eight of the paintings were chosen for the American Show next February, but this action was later rescinded for further consideration.

The judges said to a Post-Dispatch reporter that the paintings had the same trend as has become general in the Middle West—to tell stories of the American scene. They are more realistic than some years ago, but not photographic. More effort has been spent in trying to get at the mood of a situation. Most of them are quite loose, very few are hard and mechanical—"cast-iron." There is some tendency to distortion, but nothing extreme. There is nothing cubist; one so-called self-portrait tends toward surrealism. There are only one or two conventional portraits.

On the whole, the judges said, the outstanding thing about the show was a general vigor and sincerity. There was less posing by the artist. Colors betrayed a swing back to low keys, with browns dominant. There were no political pictures, although some had social tendencies in showing sympathetic attitudes toward the working man; one, satiric, showed striking pickets at an underwear plant, and another a miner with a baby on his lap.

There was much concentration on figure painting. There weren't many landscapes, and what there were were not impressionist at all, but had figures in them, or at least things like railroads, silos or boats that followed the story-telling tendency.

Rich, who served on a similar jury here five years ago, said the quality and interest of the paintings submitted had greatly increased.

PROPERTY OWNERS OFFER GRADE SEPARATION PLAN

44 Petition Aldermen for Y Type of Viaduct for Gravois and Chippewa.

A petition signed by 44 owners of business and residence property opposed to two grade separations at the Missouri Pacific tracks on Gravois avenue and Chippewa street was sent to Mayor Dickmann yesterday.

The signers, most of whom operate business houses on Gravois avenue or Chippewa street, said they favored the construction of a Y type of viaduct, which would eliminate the necessity for viaducts on both streets. The cost of the single grade separation, the petitioners said, would be much less and the plan would lessen the damage to property in the neighborhood.

The dual grade separation proposal was favored at a hearing conducted Wednesday by the Streets and Sewers Committee of the Board of Aldermen. Members of the committee said no action would be taken before next week, but indicated that they probably would report favorably on the construction of two distinct grade separations.

JAMES WRIGHT

FARMING AS USUAL DESPITE WAR IN SPAIN

James Wright, Back in St. Louis Tells of Life at Front and Behind Lines.

The sight of farmers harvesting wheat and tending vineyards within range of battle lines in the Spanish civil war is one of the memorable impressions brought back by James Wright, St. Louis Communist and World War veteran, who came home this week after two months of fighting with the loyalist army.

Wright, who served chiefly on the Madrid front, suffered shrapnel wounds on the ankles and these combined with a heart and lung condition made it necessary for him to be invalided home. His wounds were suffered on the Brunete sector, southwest of Madrid, fighting with the Abraham Lincoln Brigade.

It was on this front, where he spent 17 days, that Wright saw the arts of war and agriculture flourishing side by side. Farmers became so accustomed to enemy planes dropping overhead, he said to a Post-Dispatch reporter, that they often failed to hide in the wheat or take cover in vineyards when the planes flew over.

Business as Usual. "Two miles behind our lines," he said, "farm life went on as if there was no war. The same was true in the cities, even in some parts of Madrid. It was in fair condition, the damage from rebel bombs being chiefly in outlying sections. Downtown life went on as usual. The rebels seemed to prefer to fly over our lines and drop bombs on women and children anyway."

Wright, a short, chunky man whose hair is beginning to thin and turn gray, fingered a Soviet emblem on his lapel as he compared the fighting in Spain with that which he experienced in the World War as a member of the 138th (St. Louis) Infantry.

"The air fighting is worse in Spain than it was in the World War," he said. "They use machine guns more from planes and drop a different type of bomb—more powerful."

Fellow Communists at Albacete, where he enlisted in the loyalist forces May 20, Wright said, gave him the Communist emblem, a metallic star with the hammer and sickle stamped on it. He explained that men of nearly every political faith, except Fascism, were in the loyalist army.

Fought as Machine Gunner. Wright's former occupation as a truck driver caused him to be assigned to the transport service when he first enlisted, he said. But after 12 days, he was made a machine gunner and sent to the Segovia front, where he participated in a push that drove the rebel forces back more than 20 miles in two days, he related. The fighting there was of the guerrilla type, he said, the soldiers deploying in the timber, which afforded cover of a sort. He next saw service in the Guadarrama Mountains, northwest of Madrid, where the opposing armies were entrenched.

"Fighting was pretty hot the seven days I was there," Wright asserted. "There, as on all the fronts where I fought, the opposing forces were made up mainly of Italians or Moors with German or Italian officers. Standard practice was to have eight Moors commanded by a German or Italian non-commissioned officer and on the Guadarrama front they used German machine guns."

Few Spaniards in Franco's Army. "Franco's army is one of invaders. There are few Spaniards in it and those are mainly conscripts, forced to fight. On the Brunete front 1800 rebel Spaniards came over to our lines voluntarily and surrendered. This front, too, was active the 17 days I was there. Fighting went on day and night. I was wounded July 20, but remained in the line three more days before being sent to a hospital at Madrid. I was transferred to another hospital later and in all was laid up until Sept. 23."

Wright is the second St. Louis loyalist volunteer to return within a week. Al Friedman, 19 years old, Citing that the total cost of the State government in 1931 and 1932, the final years of the last Republican administration, was approximately $78,000,000, Curtis showed that in 1933 and 1934, the first two years of Pendergast control of the State, it reached $104,000,000, that in the next two years it reached $120,000,000, and that under appropriations by the present Democratic Legislature the cost this biennium will be $193,000,000.

URGES COALITION WITH G. O. P. TO END 'BOSS CONTROL'

During the total cost of the State government in 1931 and 1932, the final years of the last Republican administration, was approximately $78,000,000, Curtis said that in 1933 and 1934, the first two years of Democratic control of the State, it reached $104,000,000, that in the next two years it reached $120,000,000, and that under appropriation by the present Democratic Legislature the cost this biennium will be $198,000,000. He ridiculed the Democratic contention that the increase in cost was due to relief and old-age pensions, asserting that only one-third of the increase went for those purposes, the major part of it "being expended on an ever-increasing army of State employees and for increases in their salaries."

Curtis said that no relief from the burdensome taxes could be expected from the Legislature "because both divisions are controlled by the machine."

He said the institution of legislation through the initiative provision of the Constitution was the only way open, and urged that there should be concerted action of the Republican party, independent bodies and the best elements of the Democratic party to formulate a program of initiative legislation to correct conditions.

He suggested legislation for the installation of voting machines in the larger cities as a possible means to prevent election frauds and an initiated amendment to the Constitution to provide for fair representation in the Senate as a means to destroy the oligarchic control.

To Draft Platform.
Curtis said a declaration of principles to serve as a basis on which to build a revived Republican organization in Missouri will be formulated this afternoon.

He said in an interview the declaration would not take the form of mere criticism of Democratic administration failures, but would be an "affirmative" document setting forth a constructive program.

"It appears that there is a decided sentiment throughout the country," he said today, "that the time has come to stop 'just criticism' and to say where we stand, and what we stand for. The resolutions to be adopted cannot be considered a party platform. That is to be written by a State convention next year, by delegates formally chosen."

Intensive Organization Planned.
"The present situation calls for party organization throughout the State, and we are going to do intensive organization work during the next few months. It is proper that there should be a definite statement of Republican principles and aims in view of present conditions. When we ask the citizens of Missouri to join with us, they have the right to know what it is we propose to do. We intend to tell them in our resolutions."

In advance of the adoption of the resolutions this afternoon, there were a number of short talks by party leaders at a general meeting in the Shrine Mosque and an open forum in which any person was privileged to express his or her views on political and organization subjects.

Curtis and Short Speakers.
Curtis delivered the "keynote" speech and left to Congressman Dewey Short of the Seventh District, the only Missouri Republican in Congress, the discussion of national questions in a speech this evening.

Other speakers at the afternoon meeting were Barak T. Mattingly of St. Louis, newly elected chairman of the State Committee, who confined himself to organization matters; Mrs. John Wyeth of St. Joseph, National Committee woman; Miss Clela Smith of St. Louis, vice chairman of the State Committee, and Mrs. George B. Simmons of Marshall.

Though party leaders from throughout the State were in attendance, the larger part of the audience, which is expected to be several thousand persons by evening, will consist of Republicans from the Ozark section surrounding Springfield.

GLOVE IMPORTS HURT LABOR, SAYS UNIONIST

Head of New York Group Tells U. S. Officials of Drop in Employment.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—John Roucoules of Gloversville, N. Y., told a committee of Government officials today imports of foreign gloves threatened to break down the wage scale in the American glove industry. Roucoules, chairman of the joint council of Fulton County, New York, said employment in the industry at the present time was the lowest of any fall season within the past 25 years.

"Our people," he said, "are working only about 35 per cent of normal. If present conditions persist, they will force a complete breakdown of the wage scale. We can't exist on $18 a week."

Roucoules was the first witness called today as the Committee on Reciprocity Information prepared to wind up public hearings on a proposed reciprocal trade treaty with Czechoslovakia.

Tells of Union Inquiry.
He said his union, alarmed by growing unemployment in the industry last year, investigated and found many buyers were making large purchases of gloves in Europe. The increase in imports during July and August of this year over those of last year, he said, deprived workers in the American industry of about $15 a week in wages.

"You have got to consider," he said, "that every pair of gloves imported into this country is just one pair less that we produce here."

Chairman Henry F. Grady of the committee disputed this statement. "There isn't always a fixed demand," he said. "I think workers should bear that in mind in considering the effect of these treaties."

Workers in all industries are primarily concerned with the general level of business.

"If, as a result of an agreement with Czechoslovakia, we can increase the general level of business, you'll sell more gloves, even if more come in."

Speaks for Tanners.

John F. Mahoney, representing Fulton (N. Y.) glove tanners, opposed any tariff reductions, saying decreased domestic production would affect all industries allied with the glove industry.

A Johnstown (N. Y.) glove manufacturer, Elmer Little Jr., opposed any reduction, asserting there should be a 300 per cent duty against Czech imports to protect the domestic glove industry. A tariff reduction on gloves, he said, would eliminate domestic producers from the high price range.

W. A. McDermid, of New York, president of the Lead Pencil Association, Inc., said pencil manufacturers feared concessions to Czechoslovakia would result in a flood of imports from other nations through application of the most-favored-nation clause. This clause automatically extends tariff concessions to other nations not discriminating against this country.

McDermid said the State Department had to negotiate a "gentleman's agreement" with Japan two years ago to save the American pencil industry from an "invasion" of Japanese products. Although Japanese imports have since been sharply curtailed, he said, inclusion of pencils in the Czech treaty might reopen American markets to the Japanese.

Germany, he said, is in a position to invade the American market strongly once the bars are let down. At present, he said, Germany would not benefit by the most-favored-na-

WEEKS LATER -- ANOTHER WASHDAY EVENING

SAVE WORK—SAVE CLOTHES AND MONEY

With This NEW, SAFE, "No-Scrub" Soap

Now—stop wrecking your life over a washboard! Stop scrubbing the life out of your clothes. For here is a discovery that offers freedom from washday drudgery such as you've only dreamed of up to now. Developed by the makers of gentle Ivory soap at a cost of $1,000,000, it is known as OXYDOL. A "no-scrub, no-boil" soap that soaks out dirt in 15 minutes. That gets white clothes 4 to 5 shades whiter—yet works with positive safety to all washable colors and hands. Once you adopt it, you need never boil or scrub your clothes again. You can throw your washboard away. For OXYDOL is the result of a patented process that makes soap far faster acting... an amazing new formula that makes mild, gentle soap 2 to 3 times whiter washing. Thus it does these 4 amazing things: (1) Soaks out dirt in 15 minutes, without scrubbing or boiling. Even cuffs and "grimy" spots come snowy white with a few quick rubs. (2) Cuts washing time 25% to 40% in tub or machine. (3) Gets white clothes 4 to 5 shades whiter as proved by scientific Tintometer tests. (4) Yet so safe that every washable color comes out dazzling, brilliant, fresh! While hands stay lovely, soft. Even sheer cotton prints washed 100 consecutive times in OXYDOL suds, showed no perceptible sign of fading. OXYDOL is extremely economical, too. One package often goes one-third to one-half again as far as even the latest soap flakes. Furthermore—tests against popular package soaps show that, cup for cup, OXYDOL gives 28% to 60% MORE SUDS! So for your own best interest, make up your mind to try OXYDOL this very day. See your wash come whiter, more sparkling in less time than ever before. Save clothes, save money—and more important, save yourself from washboard wear and tear. Ask your dealer for a package of OXYDOL today. You'll be more than glad you did! Procter & Gamble. # STOCKS FIRM WITH STEELS

LEADING NEW UP

Buying Said to Be Based Principally on Hopes Washington Will Take Other Steps to Loosen the Capital Market.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The stock market's recovery bulged wider today, although it encountered late selling opposition that cut down a morning upswing running to 7 or more points in leaders.

Spurring buying forces was a revival of hope that the slash in margins decreed by the Federal Reserve was more than a gesture of friendliness. Washington attitude toward the financial sector and taken to reassure "big business" and awaken the long-slumbering capital market.

The ticker tape was frequently in arrears as leading issues pushed forward and large blocks of shares changed hands during the proceedings. It also suggested on the retreat. Short covering was said to have been a factor in extension of the advance.

The list stumbled near the final hour on an unconfirmed news ticker report from Hyde Park that the President had indicated no modification of the undistributed profits and capital gains taxes would be recommended.

There was a subsequent comeback, though, when it was learned the chief executive actually gave no direct comment on these disputed laws other than to say he had noted newspaper stories which speculated on a revision of the tax portion of the population which has very little money to live on.

Gains eased off at the close. Transfers were around 2,800,000.

Bonds Trail Stocks. Bonds generally trailed stocks, with secondary issues exhibiting length.

At Chicago, wheat was off 1/4 to 1/2 cent a bushel and corn was unchanged to down 1/8 cent.

An expansion of buying orders in American securities was reported from abroad and foreign markets.

Steels pointed the way for the early share spinters, apparently hastened by Bethlehem's earnings statement and sign of a nearby break in the downtrend of mill operations.

Conspicuous was the upward tilt most of the time was U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, Youngstown Steel, Inland Steel, U. S. Steel preferred, American Can, Chrysler, General Electric, DuPont, Johnson & Johnson, American Telephone & Telegraph, J. I. Case, Deere, Douglas Aircraft, Consolidated Edison, American Skelly Oil, Standard Oil of N. J., Pacific, Atlantic Coast Line, Southern Railway, General Motors, Eastman Kodak, Liggett & Myers, "B" Owens-Illinois, Dow Chemical, Canada Dry and International Paper & Power common and preferred.

Attention was drawn to the carry-over by announcement of President Roosevelt's Association of American Railroads that the Interstate Commerce Commission would be asked to approve a freight rate raise of 15 per cent in freight rates.

On top at the finish were Marathon Field, Chesapeake Corporation, California Standard Oil, U. S. Steel, Lehman Corporation, National Biscuit and Home Products, Newport Industries and Home Products.

At mid-afternoon striding was 15-16 per cent, with the French franc at $49.91-92 and the higher at 3.25 cents. A cent cotton ended 5 cents a bale up to as much down.

Loans Off $150,000,000. Rails were not unduly depressed by a sharply contra-seasonal setback caused mainly by a fall-off in miscellaneous and shipments.

Wall Street recalled that today was the eighth anniversary of the financial crisis in 1929, when the biggest stock market crash in history, on Oct. 29, 1929, 16,000,000 shares were traded.

In line with the latest margin shift, much interest was shown in the Stock Exchange report disclosing that short sales in five leading issues amounted to 22.7 per cent of all dealings in the issues for the period. Stocks traded included American Telephone, U. S. Steel, General Motors, New York Central and Standard Oil of New Jersey.

Accident with publication of its announced it had invited the Twentieth Century Fund, economic research organization, to undertake a thorough inquiry into the effect of short selling on securities markets.

A drop of $150,000,000 in brokers' loans for the week ended Oct. 27, the largest recession in any week since 1931, was attributed to principal to the wiping out of numerous margin accounts in last week's break.

TEXAN SAYS HE KNOWS OF NO GASOLINE BUYING AGREEMENT

Government Attempts to Show Refiners in Conspiracy to Keep Prices High.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 24.—Robert N. Cline, executive secretary of the Texas Refiners Marketing Association, told a Federal court jury today he knew of no agreement among major oil companies to purchase gasoline through his association in 1935 and 1936.

The government charged the major companies with buying small quantities of gasoline at artificially high prices as part of an alleged conspiracy to raise and fix midwestern gasoline prices.

Much of the morning session was consumed by argument over special prosecutor John Henry Lewis' attempt to question Cline about whether Neil Buckley of Tulsa, who tried to find markets for the association, told him why the Texas company wouldn't buy through the organization.

The defense contended the prosecution should have asked Buckley, who was a previous Government witness.

CITY TO RECONSIDER DECISION ON MILK IF BIDS ARE REVISED

Mayor Tells Producers' Head Why Change to Evaporated Product Was Made.

The city will be glad to reconsider its decision to use evaporated milk in city institutions if producers will agree to provide an adequate supply of ordinary milk at prices "commensurate with the increases recently imposed on private consumers," Mayor Dickmann wrote yesterday in reply to E. W. Tiedeman, president of the Sanitary Milk Producers, who had protested against the change.

The decision to use canned milk for 90 per cent of requirements, announced Monday, grew out of an increase in bids from 27¢ cents to 38 cents a gallon for the next six months' supply of fresh milk, which would mean a net increase of about $24,000 in cost to the city. Use of evaporated milk, at 24¢ cents a gallon, therefore would save the city about $30,000. Health Commissioner Bredeck had recommended use of the canned product from the health standpoint.

The Mayor pointed out in his letter that the increase to the city was at the rate of about 2½ cents a quart, whereas for private consumers the rise was only 1 cent. He added that the bids were "so far out of line with prices to other consumers that they could not even be entertained."

Tiedeman had written that his organization had served notice that prices would have to go up following passage of the standard milk control ordinance last year.

WASHINGTON U. CANDIDATES FOR RHODES SCHOLARSHIP

Five Selected to Represent School in Annual Competition of Oxford Award.

Five students have been selected to represent Washington University in the annual competition for Rhodes scholarships to Oxford University. They are David E. Carpenter, Kenneth L. Fox, Frederick L. Kuhlman, John Samuel Myers and Ernest L. Ohle Jr.

Carpenter, 416 Woodlawn avenue, Webster Groves, is a graduate student in sociology. He was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, scholastic honor, last year and is chairman of a committee which is seeking to interest college students in volunteer leadership in social settlement work.

Fox, whose home is in Kansas City, is a senior in the College of Liberal Arts. He has been the university correspondent for the Kansas City Star and has worked as a reporter for that newspaper during summer vacations.

Kuhlman, 3907A Palm street, is a senior in the School of Law and editor of the Washington University Law Quarterly.

Myers, who lives at 4953 West Pine boulevard, obtained an A. B. degree with Phi Beta Kappa honors in 1935 and an M. A. degree in 1936. He is now working toward the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

Ohle, 6821 Washington avenue, a senior in the College of Liberal Arts, is a co-editor of the annual and for the last two years has held the Missouri Valley Conference javelin championship.

MAN STRUCK, HURT BY AUTO

Jay Denning Hit in Front of 6668 Delmar, University City.

Jay Denning, 1302 South Florissant avenue, Ferguson, suffered skull injuries and a fracture of the left leg at 1 a. m. today when struck by an automobile in front of 6668 Delmar boulevard, University City.

The driver, Abraham Goodman, 700 Limit avenue, University City, said Denning, 35 years old, a truck driver, stepped from in front of an eastbound bus from which he had just alighted into the path of the automobile. Goodman said he did not have time to apply his brakes. Denning was taken to the St. Louis County Hospital. Goodman was released on bond.

TWO MORE ELIXIR DEATHS

Total Now 59, American Medical Association Reports.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—The American Medical Association said today two new deaths verified as caused by an Elixir of Sulfanilamide brought the total to 59.

The new cases were in Texas City, Tex., and McCaskill, Ark.

ADmits MARRYING WITHOUT A DIVORCE

Father of Six Confesses Bigamous Wedding in Clayton to Woman, 22.

Rolla Bailey, a laborer, of 1434A South Broadway, was held today to answer a charge of bigamy, on his admission that he had married a second time without having been divorced. He readily admitted that his second marriage was illegal after he was arrested yesterday by police who received information about him from an undisclosed source.

At the Lafayette Avenue Police Station he recalled, however, that he had met the first Mrs. Bailey about two weeks ago on the street near her home, 217 West Steins street. They separated about 10 years ago, after 15 years of marriage. She had asked him then if he had married again, he recounted, and when he said "no" she produced a newspaper clipping which set forth that he and Miss Irene McKinnon had obtained a marriage license July 16, at Clayton.

He and Miss McKinnon were married the same day by a Justice of the Peace, he said, and had since made their home at the South Broadway address. Both women called at the station and identified the prisoner. They told Police Captain Arthur McGuire they would prosecute.

After repeating their story this morning at the Circuit Attorney's office, they set out to obtain documentary evidence—marriage cer-

Bailey is 44 years old; his first wife 43. They had nine children, six of whom are living. Mrs. Bailey No. 2 is 22 years old.

Wife Complains Man Remarried Without Getting Divorce.

Joseph Lohmann, a toolmaker, was questioned today by police about his marital status after Mrs. Ruth Lohmann, 4707 Morganford road, had complained that he was married for a second time on Wednesday without having obtained a divorce from her.

Lohmann, 32 years old, was married Wednesday to Mrs. Gertrude Nichols, 1811 South Thirty-ninth street. He said he had separated from his first wife four years ago and that he was under the impression she had obtained a divorce in New Mexico. The first wife said she had not received the divorce, but that she would get one if it would help straighten out the tangle.

CITY'S STREET AND SEWER LABORERS TAKEN INTO UNIONS

150 of Them at Meeting Join Groups Affiliated With A. F. of L.

Union organization of laborers of the Department of Streets and Sewers was begun at a meeting at Unity Hall last night, when 150 of them joined laborers' unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, William Brandt, secretary of the Central Trades and Labor Union, announced today.

While some classifications of construction laborers and asphalt, wood block and granite stone pavers have been members of unions over a long period, the street, sewer and park laborers have not been organized.

The movement to organize the street and sewer laborers was begun several weeks ago, when a committee of the employees visited Brandt and asked to be taken into the union. The 150 were enrolled last night in Building Laborers' Local, No. 45, and in the Hod Carriers', Building and Common Laborers' Local, No. 53.

Demands for increased pay are contemplated under laborer's union scales which range from 67½ cents to $1 an hour, excepting plasterers' laborers, Brandt said. The street laborers get $3 for an eight-hour day, and their foremen, $3.50. Frank J. McDewitt, director of the department, said the budget, based on the existing wages scales, had been set for this year, and it would be difficult for any increase to be considered until the next budget is made up in April.

JURY ACQUITS PREACHER OF ATTACK ON GIRL, 14

Young Member of Congregation Accused Him; He Had Been Suspended at Tabernacle.

By the Associated Press.

DANVILLE, Ill., Oct. 29. — The Rev. William C. McCullom, 48, was found not guilty by a jury today of attacking a 14-year-old girl.

Retha Miller, young member of the Rev. Mr. McCullom's congregation, testified the minister attacked her in the bedroom of his home last July 25.

The minister, who was suspended as pastor of the Four Square Gospel Tabernacle, Sept. 8, denied her accusations.

Body Found on Railroad Tracks. The body of John Prozde of East St. Louis, an unemployed packing-house worker, was found beside the Louisville & Nashville Railroad tracks at Seventh street in East St. Louis shortly before noon today, just after a passenger train had passed. The skull was fractured. Prozde, who was about 60 years old and resided at 1022 North Third street, had been on relief. He had a wife and three children in Poland.

ALBERT MEYER, ARTIST, DIES

ENROUTE TO HOSPITAL

Portrait Painter Succumbs to An Attack of Heart Disease This Morning.

Albert Meyer, artist best known for his portraits of well-known St. Louisans, died early today of heart disease when being taken in an ambulance from his home at 3426A St. Vincent avenue, to Lutheran Hospital. He was 74 years old. Mr. Meyer, whose portraits of Victor Miller and Frederick H. Kreismann hang in the gallery of former Mayors of St. Louis at City Hall, also painted many murals and church decorations. One of his oils, "The Cracker Mansion," depicting the headquarters of Gen. Sherman during the Civil War, is at Jefferson Memorial.

Born at Hamburg, Germany, he came to the United States when a young man and later became teacher of languages at Shurtleff College, Alton.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Monday at Lupton Mortuary, 4449 Olive street, with burial in St. Peter's Cemetery. His widow and one son survive.

SENATOR FINDS FARMER IN SOUTH BADLY OFF

Crop Curtailment and Subsidies Are Needed.

Thomas, Oklahoma, Declares

Conditions among Southern farmers are "terrible," and they will become worse unless the Government aids with a program of crop curtailment and subsidies, Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma said today to a Post-Dispatch reporter.

Senator Thomas, acting chairman of the Southern subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Forestry, and two members, Senators Lynn Frazier of North Dakota and Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana, were at Union Station for an hour changing trains on a trip from Memphis to Springfield, Ill., where the committee will hold hearings today and tomorrow on agricultural conditions.

The subcommittee, along with one for Northern states, has been working since Oct. 14, on a survey to aid the Agricultural Committee to prepare new farm legislation at the special session of Congress. It has held public hearings in nine Southern cities, attended by an average of 1500 farmers and has heard about 50 witnesses a day. Its final hearing will be held at Jefferson City in the Senate chamber Monday.

The legislation proposed, Senator Thomas said, probably would be a modified version of the Agricultural Administration Act which was held unconstitutional by the Supreme Court. It is hoped to keep it within constitutional limits by making co-operation on the part of farmers voluntary.

"It will apply to the non-perishable money crops of each section—cotton, wheat, corn, rice and tobacco," he said. "Production would be controlled by State quotas, subdivided into individual quotas."

"We have got to hold out inducements in the form of benefit or subsidy payments to get the co-operation of farmers and planters. If the farmer signed a contract to limit production, the Government would guarantee him a parity price, perhaps by paying him the difference between the parity price and the world price. For instance, the parity price for cotton would be 17 cents a pound above the average world price, a parity price on wheat would be $1.18, 25 cents above the world price."

Favors Crop Limitation.
"In this way, we hope to persuade each farmer to produce only his share of what can actually be disposed of so he can get reasonable profits. The cotton crop this year was 17,500,000 bales, or 6,000,000 more than the amount that can be disposed of here and abroad; as a result, the bottom has dropped out of the market."

Senator Thomas could not estimate what such a Government policy would cost annually. If parity prices were paid on all cotton this year, it would cost half a billion dollars, he said. But the question whether parity prices would be paid on all cotton, or merely that consumed in this country—$600,000,000 bales—would have to be decided, the Senator added. The consumer, he said, would be protected against unreasonably high prices due to unforeseen bad crops by storing of surpluses in good years.

The average farmers in the South "are just about breaking even," and the share croppers "are worse off than ever before," Senator Thomas said. "Seven of 10 farmers outside the great plantation owners are tenants," he asserted. "And testimony showed that the remaining three of 10 who own land can't hold on much longer. Corporations and individual speculators in land are threatening to take them over."

Living on Flour and Water.

"One share-cropper testified that if a sample of his blood were analyzed it would turn out to be 90 per cent water-gravy. He had been living off of flour and water. One testified yesterday at Memphis that after he had paid his landlord his one-quarter share and paid the expenses of ginning and picking a bale of cotton, he had left a total profit of $1.98 for the labor of himself and his family. It takes three acres to produce a bale, and the average cropper raises four bales a year. At $40 a bale, he gets an average of $160 a year, of which he must immediately pay the landlord $40, then take out all his other expenses and live on the remainder."

Most Farmers Favor Control.
From 90 to 95 per cent of the farmers interviewed were in favor of some kind of control legislation and were willing to give voluntary co-operation in carrying out any plan, the Senator declared. "Most of the big fellows would rather go it alone," he said. "But Oscar Johnston, manager of the largest cotton plantation in the country—90,000 acres in Mississippi, with 1000 tenants—testified yesterday that he was in favor of control."

Thomas added his personal opinion that the slump in agricultural prices was the chief cause of the recent break in the stock market. "Since March 1," he said, "the people of the United States have lost enough in fallen values on all kinds of property to liquidate the national debt of $37,000,000,000. That's why farm legislation is important to everyone."

$500,000 Stamp Exhibit.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—The American Philatelic Congress exhibited a $500,000 assortment of stamps at its third annual meeting today. The gathering ends Sunday. One of the outstanding exhibits, it was said, was that of Dr. Pritchard von David of San Antonio, Tex., containing 20 inverted center revenue stamps. Each stamp is worth from $5000 to $10,000.

WELL, I'LL TELL YOU—By BOB BURNS

IT SEEMS to be human nature for us to worry about other people's mistakes as long as they don't hit us. I know some picture people who are squawkin' about havin' to pay income tax, and I remember several years ago, when they didn't have'ta pay any, they weren't worried about the situation at all. It's a lot like my uncle who got a dollar too much in his pay envelope one month and he didn't say anything about it, but the next month, when he was a dollar short, he went to the cashier and squawked his head off. The cashier says, "Well, last month we put a dollar too much in your envelope and you didn't say anything." And my uncle says, "Well, when you only made one mistake I didn't think nothin' of it, but when I saw you'd made two, I thought I'd better speak to you about it!"

The Best Lead

By
Ely Culbertson

Ely Culbertson is conducting, through this column, a national examination of bridge players. Rate yourself by subtracting from 100 the points for each wrong answer.

QUESTIONS 25 and 26 of the national self rating bridge examination appeared yesterday. They were:

Question 25: Both sides vulnerable. You are South. Your partner dealt and bid one no trump. Next hand passed. You hold:

♠ 10 8 5 4 ♥ J 9 7 5 ♦ 6 ♣ A J 8 3

What card do you make?

Answer: You should bid two clubs. Your distribution (singleton diamond) is not advantageous at no trump. If partner now can bid either major suit your hand will warrant a raise in that suit, and definite hope of game. (One point demerit for passing. Two points demerit for any bid except two clubs.)

Question 26: Both sides vulnerable. You are South. The bidding has proceeded:

East South West North
1 no trump Pass 2 no trump Pass
3 no trump Pass Pass

Your holding is:

♠ Q J 10 8 4 ♥ A J 9 7 5 ♦ 6 ♣ A 7

What card do you lead?

Answer: Your best lead is the spade queen. This is an attacking lead and, at the same time, a safe one. To lead away from your heart semi-tenace may be to present the declarer with the one trick needed for his contract. (One point demerit for fourth best heart lead. Two points demerit for a diamond or club lead.)

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question 27: You are East, defending against a four spade contract. West opened the diamond king. Dummy and your hand are as follows:

North (dummy). East
♠ K 3 2 ♥ 7 6 5 4 ♦ Q 10 ♣ J 9 8 7
♠ A 8 6 ♥ J 5 ♦ 8 7 6 5 ♣ A 10 9 8 7
♠ Q J 9 ♥ 4 3 2 ♦ A ♣ 6 5 4 3 2

The diamond ace won the first trick, and the club queen is led. Do you or do you not cover?

TODAY'S HAND.

Match point duplicate.

South, dealer.

Both sides vulnerable.

TOMORROW'S HOROSCOPE

by WYNN

For Saturday, Oct. 30. BUSINESS hours hold conflicts; tests of whether we have been living as we should; challenges to our plans. Doubt and fear are tempting, but we're licked if we yield. Detour self-indulgence and self-pity in afternoon.

How Do You React?

When you read a book it means something to you which may not be exactly the same meaning that another person gets from the identically same pages. Notice the different underlinings of two students in the same text book. This is because the two people are different. It is not the book, but what they bring to it. And the same is true of our reactions to planetary rays.

Your Year Ahead.

Your year ahead, till next anniversary, is active, expansive and changing; but loss can come if you act too quickly for wisdom. Do not endanger health, esp. from Feb. 28; Danger: Nov. 14-Dec. 22; March 8-April 29; July 23-Sept. 13.

guard the heart king, and this reduced him to one spade. To his everlasting shame, he kept the spade queen instead of a low spade. He was now thrown on lead with a spade and had to return a heart from his king.

I wish I had a dollar for every time this mistake is made. I grant, unequivocally, that West could not be sure about the location of the spade jack. But one thing he should have known: that was, that if he held on to the spade queen against this particular declarer, he certainly would be end-played. The right defense would have been to chuck the spade queen and pray that East, instead of declarer, held the jack.

Down Memory Lane! (With Tyron Power Jr.)

WHAT there is of my life thus far is, like Caesar's Gaul, divided into three parts. . . . Of the first, I remember nothing. . . . The latter is still too fresh and hectic to be catalogued as "memories."

The pre-Hollywood, which ended just a year and a half ago, really starts with my first remembered after-dinner "sit still periods." . . . My sister and I would have to remain sitting at the dinner table for 15 minutes after we had eaten, during which mother would combine this lesson in poise with one on diction. . . . I was a very nervous and flighty youngster, which was one of the reasons mother tried the method of keeping me calm and giving me something to work on.

The first big moment in my life was when I was given my first part in the Mission Play at San Gabriel, Cal. . . . I would have to remain playing in it, and, as they needed a youngster of about 7 for a small role, I drew it. . . . Even before I understood what half of the words meant I was thoroughly conversant with theatrical lingo. But it was a bit scary getting up before an audience for the first time. . . . Besides my parents there was one other person who helped me greatly at that time. . . . He was Charles C. Hardee, who was not only stage manager but played a big role in the production. . . . Just a month ago one of the extras on the set of "In Old Chicago," the latest 20th Century-Fox picture which I recently finished, came up and greeted me very cordially. . . . I was Charles C. Hardee, whom I had not met since I made my debut at the age of 7. . . . Hardee's help at that time was instrumental in persuading John Steven McGroarty to put me in another outdoor play, "La Gordinia."

When I was 9 mother moved back to Cincinnati, my birthplace, where my sister, Ann, and I went to school. . . . It was after I completed the sixth grade at St. Xavier Academy that I got my first taste of living away from home. . . . I was sent to the parochial prep school for the University of Dayton in Dayton, O. . . . Later, at Purcell High School in Cincinnati, I got my first lead in a play. The year I graduated I was given the lead in "Officer 666," the senior class play.

I was 17 then, and therefore thought I knew more than I did when I reached the ripe old age of 21. . . . My parents wanted me to go to college. . . . I held out for starting on my stage career immediately.

For a while I jerked sodas in a corner drug store. . . . That was when I met my first big heart throb and my first information about the movies via the fan magazines. . . . The heart throb, whose name I never did know, was a girl who used to come into the store occasionally. . . . I secretly worshipped her, but didn't dare ever approach her. . . . I always hoped that when I was sent out on deliveries, which was also part of my duties, that one of them would be to her house. . . . It never was. That romance was born to blush unseen and unknown to the lady in question.

To get back to my decision not to go to college, a compromise was reached by my father offering to take me for the summer to a country home in Quebec. . . . There I went through an intensive course in Shakespeare. . . . Father trained me like a drill sergeant. . . . We would read plays, taking different parts, interpret them and analyze characters and readings. . . . I guess the idea was to get me thoroughly fed up on the idea, but I loved it. . . . In fact, that summer proved to be the most valuable bit of training I have ever received. . . . When it became evident that I was determined to turn professional in as short a time as possible, father took me with him to Chicago.

When I was 9 mother moved where he was engaged for a short season of Shakespearean drama at the Chicago Civic Auditorium, season of fall, 1931. . . . In the cast were also Fritz Lieber, William Faversham and Helen Mencken.

My first production was "The Merchant of Venice," in which I played an old man, friend of the Duke of Venice, the latter part played by my father. . . .

In that play I had my narrowest escape. . . . As part of his action, Fritz Lieber, as Shylock, was to pick up and brandish a huge knife. . . . In a violent movement the knife slipped from his grasp and whizzed by my head so close that I felt the wind of it on my cheek. . . . When it struck, up to the hilt, in the scenery, I could see my father stiffen and clench the sides of the chair in which he was sitting. . . . I shall never forget the concern in his whisper: "My God! son, are you hurt?"

Lieber almost collapsed, and the situation was not lost on the audience. . . . But imbued with all the novice's rapture over the "show must go on" tradition, I carried on in true trouper fashion. . . . At the end of the act I got the jitters when I thought about how close that knife came to me, but I didn't dare tell father about it.

I may be technically in error when I refer to all of this as my pre-Hollywood period. . . . I did have a try at Hollywood during this time, but as I didn't have any luck, it just doesn't count. . . . It was shortly after my Chicago experience in Shakespeare that father died in the middle of production on "The Miracle Man" at Paramount Studios. . . . I was with him then, but mother and Ann joined me shortly. . . .

I wanted and needed work, but the rounds of the Hollywood casting offices proved fruitless. . . . They admitted me and would talk to me on account of my father's name which I bore, but the conversation was mostly about how great an actor my father was. . . . When I got them around to the job situa-

Nutrition of Race Today Is Vastly Better

Improvement Over Past Generation Largely Due to Scientific Knowledge.

By Logan Clendening, M. D.

I AM looking at the picture of a group of school children in London, taken in 1894, and for comparative purposes at the picture of a group of children in the same school, in the same parish, within very recent years.

Seeing is believing, and a glance at such pictures is worth more than reams of statistics to prove that the nutrition of the race of today is vastly better than it was in the last generation. . . . Some of the children in the picture taken in 1894 are squinting up their eyes as if the light hurt them; some have obvious signs of rickets, adenoids, bad teeth. Such things are not noticeable in the recent picture.

It is difficult to believe that this improvement happened by chance, and it is difficult to believe that the improvement was not largely due to dissemination of scientific knowledge of nutrition.

The pictures to which I refer were taken in England, but the condition is true and obtains all over the globe.

Returning travelers from Germany tell me they found little talk of war, little talk of politics, but an enormous enthusiasm for the sciences of physics and chemistry, and biology, with the practical object of improving the standard of the race so as to make a new Germany.

We have been speaking of the vitamins and, of course, these peculiar substances which constitute such a small part of our diet are probably more important for maintaining a high standard of nutrition than any other single element.

Is instinct alone sufficient to provide enough vitamins in our diet? Dr. Leslie J. Harris, in his recent book on the subject, says "That of course, is perfectly true; but instinct alone is not sufficient, but one wonders if habit is not sufficient. In other words, the habit of eating a varied diet with sufficient amounts of fresh food, vegetables, fruits, etc. I think this is true for most people on a comfortable economic level, especially in America."

For those who are less fortunate and are not on so high an economic level in England, they are being taught an ideal diet must (a) be varied, (b) contain a daily protein dish (e. g., meat, fish, eggs or cheese), (c) contain daily fruit or salad, (vitamin C), (d) be milk-sparing.

The common faults of the working class diet in England have been listed by authoritative officials as:

1. Too little vegetables, fresh fruit, milk, butter and eggs are taken.

2. Too much food is "tinned, preserved, refined, dried or compressed." More brown bread might be eaten instead of white.

3. The specially pressing need of the expectant and the nursing mother are not always sufficiently realized.

4. Growing children are often given insufficient "body building" food—that is, lean meat, fish, milk, cheese and eggs.

IF YOU ASK MY OPINION

By Martha Carr

My dear Mrs. Carr:

PARDON me for bothering you with my troubles, but I am a sea and would like your advice. Some time ago my son, aged 18 years, wrote you regarding a position. He is at present attending Hadley at night in order to secure more knowledge. Mrs. Carr, he would take any position that you may be able to recommend to him. He is desperately in need of employment and is becoming very discouraged.

Being conscious of conditions at home (my husband very irregularly employed) he accepted a job in a factory that paid very little and the work was very hard. An opportunity presented itself whereby he thought he could change positions and advance himself. He accepted this latter position, doing office work, bookkeeping and typewriting. But, as luck would have it, the concern was forced out of business.

Both places where he was employed have furnished him with the best of references, but he has walked his feet sore looking for work. He is a very likable young man and will do all in his power to prove that he is worthy of a trial. You cannot know how very much I would appreciate any position you could recommend for him, as really his aid is needed so badly at home. With kindest regards, I am MRS. P.

I remember your son's letters and liked them. For that reason, I gave them to a man who is in a position to employ him when there is a vacancy. But there was none at that time and the very long list of applications ahead of your boy has made it impossible for anything to be done, as yet.

As I wrote your son and have said repeatedly in the column, I cannot, personally, secure work for anyone, however, you may be sure that should I hear of an opening, I shall be glad to let him know.

Dear Mrs. Carr:

WHAT is the symbol for the twentieth wedding anniversary? Would you please mention some inexpensive gifts—something nice but not too expensive? If the wife, referring to the couple who will celebrate the anniversary, has a birthday on the same day, would it be all right just to give the anniversary gift? What type of card would you attach? Any information you will give will be appreciated. WONDERING.

If you will send me self-addressed stamped envelope I can go much more into detail about the celebrations. I have not space in the column to give you all the information I should like to give.

Dear Martha Carr: WE are four couples who always chum together; the girls 18, the boys 21 and 22. The boys would like to take us to a burlesque show and named the place. Two of the girls refused immediately and said the boys should not ask us to go to such a place. Now what do you think, Mrs. Carr; were they right or wrong? We had a big argument about this. Please let us hear from you soon. PUZZLED.

If the two girls, who refused, explain to you what kind of a place this is and the character of amusement, you should have had no argument at all. I asked the opinion of a girl about your age and her reply was more than indignant. She censured the boys as well as those girls who could not decide.

Dear Mrs. Carr: YOU helped me before to find homes for two kittens and I am very grateful. I now am asking for a home for one. It is very cute and clean and a pet. Thanking you for your favor, MRS. C.

Amateur Vrieties

At 10:30 A. M. Tomorrow.

KSD will broadcast tomorrow morning from 10:30 to 11 o'clock the grand finals of the first 13-week series of Amateur Vrieties programs, which it has been broadcasting Saturdays. The grand finals, in which winners in the last 12 broadcasts will compete, will begin in Hall No. 3 in the Municipal Auditorium, at 10 o'clock, and will continue until 11:30.

Saturday of next week, a new Amateur Vrieties series will start on KSD, but will be shifted to the half hour from 6:30 to 7 o'clock in the evening. As before, there will be weekly competitions for 12 weeks, and the winners of the weekly contests will meet in another grand finals on the thirteenth Saturday evening.

REBELS REPULSE LOYALIST ATTACK SOUTH OF MADRID

Communique Report
Fresh Fighting at Cuesta de la Reina, 20 Miles From Former Capital.

FASCISTS SUFFER GUADALAJARA LOSS

Beaten Back to Trenches When They Try Surprise Assault Northeast Spanish Metropolis.

By the Associated Press.
HENDAYE, French-Spanish Frontier, Oct. 30.—An insurgent communique reported today that Spanish Government troops in the Cuesta de la Reina sector, about 20 miles south of Madrid, had been beaten off.

The communique also cited progress in Asturian cleanup operations but said nothing of importance was happening on other fronts.

The usual Government report were not received at the French frontier today, but earlier a communique announced that an insurgent surprise attack on the Guadajajara front, northeast of Madrid, was repulsed yesterday at great loss to the insurgents. The Guadajajara front was the scene of a great insurgent defeat late in March when Madrid's defenders hurled back an army said to be almost wholly Italian.

Generalissimo Francisco Franco's troops were reported driven back into their own trenches in yesterday's engagement. The sudden shift in the insurgent attack was aimed at the Government positions along the road leading north from Guadajajara to Soria, in the salient which shoots off from the broad Aragon front, where Franco has massed his troops for a new attack.

Insurgent headquarters at Salamanca reported a Government attack on the Clinical Hospital in the northern suburb of Madrid had been halted. The insurgents declared the Madrid militiamen attempted to attack after exploding a series of mines, but the assaults failed.

A Government communique said the insurgent fortifications in University City had been destroyed and the west wing of the Clinical Hospital wrecked.

Government reports also told of a bombardment of insurgent positions west of Toledo, in the sector southwest of the capital, "putting strong pressure on insurgent positions."

In conquered Oviedo Province (Asturias) in the northwest, the insurgent cleanup units announced discovery of 40,000 new uniforms intended for Asturian troops, whose resistance now has been virtually wiped out. The uniforms, found in factories near Gijon, will be worn by Franco's troops.

800 Killed, 4000 Hurt by Shells and Bombs in Madrid.

By the Associated Press.
MADRID, Oct. 30.—The Spanish Government announced yesterday that 800 persons had been killed and more than 4000 hurt in the shelling and bombings of Madrid since the city was first besieged Nov. 7, 1936.

The figures were given in a presidential decree which allotted the former capital 17,000,000 pesetas for the construction of bombproof shelters to accommodate 350,000 persons.

There have been 30 air raids, 50 heavy shelling and many light bombardments during the siege.

TURKS, WITH MILITARY SHOW, MARK REPUBLIC'S BIRTHDAY

President Reviews Parade; His Adopted Daughter Pilots Bombing Plane.

By the Associated Press.
ANKARA, Turkey, Oct. 30.—President Kamal Ataturk reviewed a huge military spectacle yesterday at the opening of a three-day celebration of the fourteenth anniversary of the Kamalist republic of Turkey. His adopted daughter, Sabiha Tukechen, headed a squadron of four bombers, all piloted by women, which flew over the field where 2000 woman soldiers of the 1922 war against Greece marched in review.

This city was decorated with millions of Turkish flags. Forts and battleships along the roamed Dardanelles and the Bosphorus, fired salutes to the republic and its President.

The President's daughter is 23 years old. On her gray tunic she wears a diamond medal for conspicuous gallantry. She is said to be the world's only woman flight lieutenant. Once she took a plane into the Dersim area of Eastern Anatolia and bombed Kurdish brigands out of their mountain dens.
